BLONDE CHECK PASSER CAUGHT ON RETURN TRIP HERE MONDAY

Joyce H. Stewart, aged 25, of Bradford, Pa., and a companion, James Mitchell, 26, also of Bradford, are in the Adams County jail today charged with issuing worthless checks.

The couple "loured" Gettysburg about two weeks ago and passed a number of checks. News reports of the passage of Mrs. Stewart through the community and her skill at cashing checks helped bring her arrest when she and Mitchell returned here Monday to attempt to "hang some more paper."

Police originally had not known there was a "James Mitchell," the name that had been signed to some of the checks cashed by Mrs. Stewart on her first visit here. As they continued their investigation they found from police in other cities that she was accompanied by a man who gave his name as James Mitchell or James Cook.

MOTHER OF TWINS

Monday afternoon about 4:30 o'clock Mrs. Stewart visited at least two stores here. At the Big D, the manager, having read of Mrs. Stewart's worthless check activities, called when she appeared there. At the Acme Market, the clerks and manager, when they saw the "Joyce Stewart" name, called police and began delaying actions with the hope they could keep Mrs. Stewart there without arousing her suspicions until police arrived.

Chief of Police Jack Bartlett had left for the Big D as soon as that call came in. A few minutes later the call came into the police office from the Acme and Officer Paul B. Shealer hurried there in time to nab Mrs. Stewart.

RECREATION BD. WORKS ON 1963 BUDGET

Gettysburg Recreation Board drew up a tentative budget Monday night for submission to borough council and "asked construction of a concrete block "equipment and storage shed" to replace present wooden structures which the board members termed "a mess."

While the work on the budget is not completed, addition of the building, which the board estimated would cost about $2,500, would push the suggested budget to $20,480. This year the budget as adopted by council for recreation provides $18,000.

Under the method of operation, the Recreation Board sets up a proposed budget and submits it to the finance committee of borough council. The committee and council generally go over the budget and then council passes a budget for recreational purposes for the coming year.

Monday evening the board went over this year's budget, comparing it with expenditures during the year.

Tentatively it increased the amount for salaries for the director and supervisors and instructors from $9,087 to $10,000. The amount for water cost was increased because an additional toilet has been constructed at the park. The amount was $100 and was raised to $125. Cost of recreational supplies was raised from $800 to $1,000. The sum of $400 for new playground equipment was continued. The sum of $1,500 in last year's budget for completion of the rest rooms was exchanged for the $2,500 for the proposed replacement of the equipment shed.

CATTON URGES REAL FAITH IN EMANCIPATION

America's responsibility for world leadership originated in Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation, Bruce Catton, Pulitzer Prize and national book award winner, and editor of American Heritage, told members of the Lincoln Fellowship at the anniversary luncheon in the Hotel Gettysburg Monday.

"No one knows what will happen in the next two weeks," he warned, "but faith in this ideal (the fight for freedom) will carry us through."

He admonished Americans for relegating the Emancipation Proclamation to bookshelves and textbooks.

TIMELESS DOCUMENT

"It is a timeless document," he declared, "and justifies our reason for continuing the eternal fight for freedom."

He described Lincoln's failure to obtain congressional support for a plan he had for avoiding war and, once the physical conflict began, another plan that he hoped would solve the problems of a freed population that refused to leave America.

The plan for compensated emancipation would have paid slaveholders $400 a slave, and Lincoln unsuccessfully argued to Congress, was considerably cheaper than fighting a war, which at the time was costing $2 million a day. He also had no support from slaveowners.

His plan for colonization of slaves was equally unpopular and impractical, and eventually (Continued On Page 8)

MILES HORST "FARM-CITY" SPEAKER HERE

Agricultural progress in Pennsylvania in the last generation was reviewed Monday evening by Miles A. Horst, former state secretary of agriculture, in a Farm-City Week talk at the weekly dinner meeting of the local Lions Club.

Mr. Horst, who was also a special assistant in the U.S. Department of Agriculture, during much of the Eisenhower administration, noted that fewer people are producing more and better quality foodstuffs from fewer acres and fewer dairy herds and fewer poultry farms than ever before.

Nehru Shuns Talks With Red Chinese; Declares "We Shall Wage This War Until We Win"

By HENRY S. BRADSHAW
NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru today named a new army chief of staff and told Parliament the battered Indian army is ready for a desperate stand against Chinese Communist warriors rushing toward the rich plains of Assam.

Nehru also declared the Chinese "have sent many suggestions (for talks) but we are not going to accept any one of them. We shall continue the war until we win."

Gen. Joyanto Natch Chaudhuri, 54, commander of the Indian troops that seized Portuguese Goa last December in lightning conquest, was named to succeed Gen. P. N. Thapar.

"HEALTH REASONS"

Nehru said Thapar was relieved for health reasons and is going on a long leave.

Like Thapar, the new commander is a graduate of Britain's famed Sandhurst military school and a veteran of World War II.

Nehru said the Chinese are advancing from captured Bomdila, only 80 road miles from the plains, along a road which leaves the mountains and runs through a strip of jungle before emerging onto rich rice fields and tea estates.

"Defensive positions have been prepared in front of them and our troops will give battle there," Nehru said.

MOUNTAIN PASS

He said the Chinese were "a few miles beyond Bomdila."

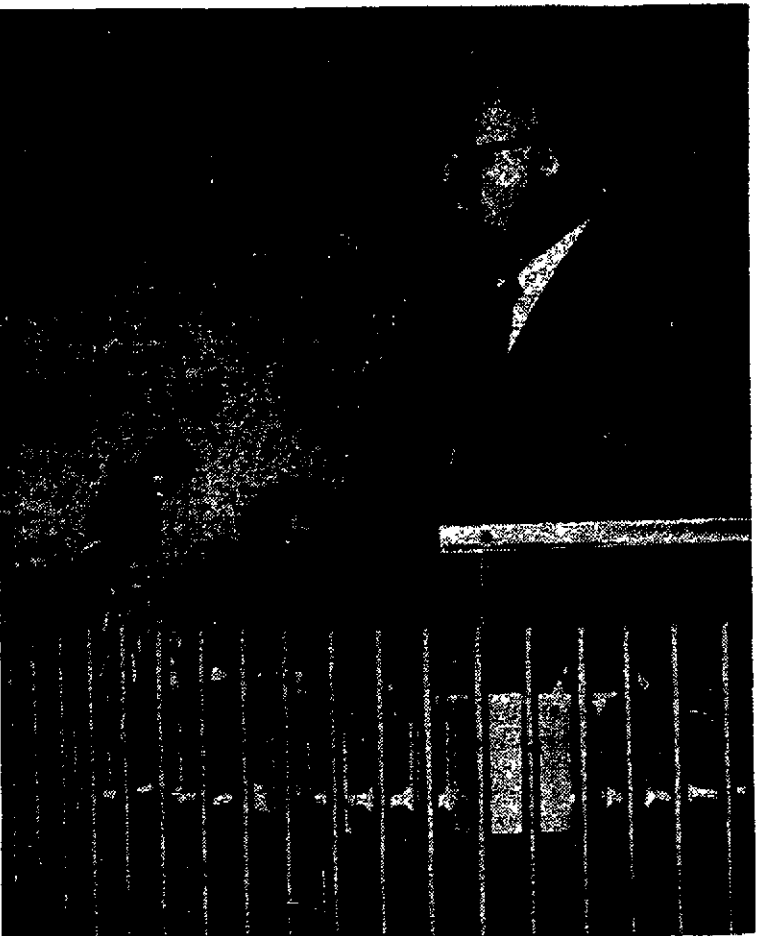

Between Bomdila and the plains there is one last mountain pass, 9,300-foot Eagle's Nest, that would offer a good defensive position.

The American consul general in Calcutta, William Baxter, recommended that dependents of Americans on the north bank of the Brahmaputra River in Assam be evacuated. The Chinese are less than 50 air miles north of the river.

Baxter also recommended that (Continued On Page 8)

That's the way one of Gettysburg's oldest citizens prefers to describe her 95th birthday anniversary.

Mrs. Cunningham, who has been a widow for five years, is the last remaining member of the Norbeck family. Her sister died in May at the age of 91.

HAD SURGERY AT 90

She is well-known throughout the community as an active church worker and a member of the election board for nearly 40 years. She has been a long-time member of the Fish and Game Association, PCBL and NCCW of St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church and the Hospital Auxiliary.

She is one of the hospital's favorite patients, a reputation she earned at the age of 90 when she appeared at the hospital one day and announced to the staff that she had come for a gall bladder operation. Her doctors were reluctant to perform surgery and told her so. She responded by declaring that she had no intention of returning to her home until they operated, which they did. Castro Offers To Give "Old Slow" Jet Bombers Back To The Soviet Union

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro offered today to give up the jet bombers the Soviet Union delivered to Cuba, a move that could pave the way to a settlement of the Cuban crisis.

Havana radio reported that Castro, in a letter to acting U.S. Secretary-General U. Thant, said the IL28 bombers were old and slow and the Soviet Union could take them back if it wanted to.

Continued presence of the bombers in Cuba is the biggest unresolved issue in the Cuban dispute between the United States and the Soviet Union. President Kennedy classed them as offensive weapons because they have a range of 750 miles and can carry nuclear bombs.

SOVIET LACKS CONTROL

U.S. authorities estimate 30 or more of the bombers were delivered to Cuba. The Soviet Union said Premier Khrushchev could not order them out as he had some 40 Soviet missiles, because the bombers had been turned over to Castro and were no longer under Soviet control.

Despite his concession on the bombers, Castro in his letter to Thant repeated his refusal to permit foreign inspection of Cuban arms. He also repeated his threat to shoot down any war plane violating his nation's air space, a reference to U.S. reconnaissance planes which have continued aerial surveillance of Cuba to insure that the dismantled missile bases are not reactivated.

CHARGES U. S. FORCE

Castro charged that the U.S. insistence on removal of the Soviet jet bombers from Cuba "is a pretext to maintain tension, prolong the crisis and sustain its policy of force."

"However," he continued, "if the Soviet government considers it advisable to withdraw these planes for the benefit of negotiations and for the solution of the crisis, the revolutionary government (Continued On Page 9)

Two-District School Plan Approved By Adams Board; Reserve Right To Revise It

URGES PUBLIC CARE CENTER FOR CHILDREN

County Extension Home Economist Mrs. Helen Tunison, urged establishment of a day care center in the county for the children of working mothers, at a joint "Farm-City" meeting of the Kiwanis Club and the Business and Professional Women's Club. The session was held at the Lamp Post Tea Room.

Noting that a day care center has been operated here the last several summers for the children of migrant laborers, she said its success would indicate that a similar center would be of great help to the many Adams County mothers who work outside their homes. Up to 75 per cent of the cost could be obtained from the state, she said, and added "it would be difficult to establish and maintain, but I believe it would be worth the effort."

"Today's basic decision," she said, "for most girls and women is not whether to pursue a career, but how to dovetail one with marriage, motherhood, continuing education and church and community responsibility."

MOST WORKING WIVES

Adams County has the largest percentage of working wives in the state, she said. "In this county 38.5 per cent of the women are employed. Twenty-seven and a half per cent of women with children under six whose husbands are present are employed in Adams County. These figures do not include the windows, the divorced, the deserted, or the woman who operates the farm because it will not support the family and she does the farm-work while her husband is employed at some other business."

The "farm revolution" over the last several decades has "swept many off the farm to other employment which is neither skilled nor unskilled, and so the one member of the family does not make enough to support the whole family. The wife goes to work not for milk coats and Bermuda vacations, but to help make enough to keep the family together and living with at least a minimum of comforts."

The "farm revolution" has been brought about by many factors, she noted.

"The farmer has done almost too good a job. In 1940 he received 53 cents of the dollar that was spent for food. Today he receives 40 cents. The remainder goes into additional food packaging and processing, which the consumer demands. The farmer, per item, receives less today than he did 20 years ago and as a result, as the profits dwindle, more efficiency became the need. The farmer cut down the number of his employees, developed an increasingly larger unit in order to take efficient use of the machinery needed, and as a result Pennsylvania today has far fewer farms and much greater production."

"This, of course, has moved many people off the farm into other lines of endeavor."

"We are a rural county and I think most of us appreciate the (Continued On Page 3)

BOARD PLANS ADAMS SCHOOL CONVENTION

The county board of school directors at its November meeting Monday evening in the county superintendent's office reviewed program plans for the county school directors' convention to be held at the Bermudian Springs High School November 30 and got an up-to-date report on the progress of Bonneville's request for the establishment of an independent school district for that borough.

County Superintendent of Schools M. Francis Cousion, who has been in charge of the program arrangements, told the directors Mrs. Marjorie March, immediate past president of the Pennsylvania State School Directors' Association, will be an afternoon speaker at the convention and Reed B. Tietrich, Carlisle area school director, will speak in the morning. Mr. Tietrich is a member of a state committee of nine studying enabling legislation for Act 361, the school reorganization act.

Castro Offers To Give "Old Slow" Jet Bombers Back To The Soviet Union

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro offered today to give up the jet bombers the Soviet Union delivered to Cuba, a move that could pave the way to a settlement of the Cuban crisis.

Havana radio reported that Castro, in a letter to acting U.N. Secretary-General U. Thant, said the IL28 bombers were old and slow and the Soviet Union could take them back if it wanted to. Continued presence of the bombers in Cuba is the biggest unresolved issue in the Cuban dispute between the United States and the Soviet Union. President Kennedy classed them as offensive weapons because they have a range of 750 miles and can carry nuclear bombs.

SOVIET LACKS CONTROL

U.S. authorities estimate 30 or more of the bombers were delivered to Cuba. The Soviet Union said Premier Khrushchev could not order them out, as he had some 40 Soviet missiles, because

URGES PUBLIC CARE CENTER FOR CHILDREN

County Extension Home Economist Mrs. Helen Tunison, urged establishment of a day care center in the county for the children of working mothers, at a joint "Farm-City" meeting of the Kiwanis Club and the Business and Professional Women's Club. The session was held at the Lamp Post Tea Room.

Noting that a day care center has been operated here the last several summers for the children of migrant laborers, she said its success would indicate that a similar center would be of great help to the many Adams County mothers who work outside their homes. Up to 75 per cent of the cost could be obtained from the state, she said, and added "it would be difficult to establish and maintain, but I believe it would be worth the effort."

"Today's basic decision," she said, "for most girls and women is not whether to pursue a career, but how to dovetail one with marriage, motherhood, continuing education and church and community responsibility."

MOST WORKING WIVES

Adams County has the largest percentage of working wives in the state, she said. "In this county 38.5 per cent of the women are employed. Twenty-seven and a half per cent of women with children under six whose husbands are present are employed in Adams County. These figures do not include the widows, the divorced, the deserted, or the woman who operates the farm because it will not support the family and she does the farm-work while her husband is employed at some other business."

The "farm revolution" over the last several decades has "swept many off the farm to other employment which is neither skilled nor semiskilled, and so the one member of the family does not make enough to support the whole family. The wife goes to work not for mink coats and Bermuda vacations, but to help make enough to keep the family together and living with at least a minimum of comforts."

The "farm revolution" has been brought about by many factors, she noted.

TIMES CHANGING

"The farmer has done almost too good a job. In 1940 he received 53 cents of the dollar that was spent for food. Today he receives 40 cents. The remainder goes into additional food packaging and processing, which the consumer demands. The farmer, per item, receives less today than he did 20 years ago and as a result, as the profits dwindle, more efficiency became the need. The farmer cut down the number of his employees, developed an increasingly larger unit in order to take efficient use of the machinery needed, and as a result Pennsylvania today has far fewer farms and much greater production.

"This, of course, has moved many people off the farm and into other lines of endeavor."

"We are a rural county and I think most of us appreciate the

By unanimous vote Monday evening, the Adams County Board of School Directors approved a two-district school reorganization plan for Adams county but reserved the right to review its decision in 1963.

The final decision came after more than two hours of discussion in which most of the board members expressed a personal preference for a single school district in the county but agreed it would be "unsafe" now to make such a recommendation.

The board's decision will be submitted to the state Council of Education before December 31 in connection with a complete plan for the reorganization of the county's present 21 districts into two districts, effective July 1, 1965.

TO REVIEW IT IN '63

The five county board members supplemented their resolution approving the two-district plan with this state: "Be it further resolved that should implementing legislation be enacted (on Act 561) concerning reimbursement for transportation in second-class districts; and concerning board representation or concerning other presently unforeseen considerations; and should such implementing legislation affect education plans in Adams County, then we reserve the right to reconsider this plan presently being submitted for the purpose of revising the plan of reorganization in Adams County."

In another motion, which passed promptly, the county superintendent was instructed to place on the county board agenda at its first meeting after adjournment of the 1963 session of the state legislature a restudy of the county's plan of reorganization.

The division of the county into two districts, in line with Plan B had been favored by a majority of the school directors of the county in recommendations to the county board, will place Gettysburg, Littlestown and Fairfield in one district and all of the rest of the county in the other district.

The motion to adopt the two-district plan with reservations was made by Dean Asquith of the Upper Adams district and was seconded by Glenn Haar of the New Oxford Area board. On the roll call vote, those two districts

BOARD PLANS ADAMS SCHOOL CONVENTION

The county board of school directors at its November meeting Monday evening in the county superintendent's office reviewed program plans for the county school directors' convention to be held at the Bermudian Springs High School November 30 and got an up-to-date report on the progress of Bonneville's request for the establishment of an independent school district for that borough.

County Superintendent of Schools M. Francis Coulson, who has been in charge of the program arrangements, told the directors Mrs. Marjorie March, immediate past president of the Pennsylvania State School Directors' Association, will be an afternoon speaker at the convention and Reed B. Tietrich, Carlisle area school director, will speak in the morning. Mr. Tietrich is a member of a state committee of nine studying enabling legislation for Act 561, the school reorganization act.

The county board learned that Bonneville's petition for the establishment of a borough school district will get an airing before the state Council of Education at 9:30 a.m. December 11 in Room 200 of the state education building.

UTILITY WILL BUILD HUGE GENERATING PLANT IN PA.

INDIANA, Pa., (AP)—Pennsylvania Electric Co. announced today plans for construction of a $175 million electric generating station 10 miles west of Indiana.

Penelec president Louis H. Roddis Jr. said the mine-mouth station will burn annually as much as 4.7 million tons of bituminous obtained within a 40-mile radius of the 400-acre plant site.

Roddis said the 1.6 million kilowatt power plant will be known as the Keystone Generating Station and will be the hub of a $350 million co-ordinated high voltage transmission and power plant construction program, one of the largest ever undertaken by the electric utility industry.

The program would cover more than 30 million persons in eight eastern states and the District of Columbia.

The Indiana plant will be the largest in Pennsylvania and one of the largest in the nation, Roddis said. It will be constructed and owned jointly by General Public Utilities Corp., Pennsylvania Power and Light Co. and the Philadelphia Electric Co.

All three are members of the Pennsylvania-New Jersey-Maryland Interconnection (PJM). Penelec is an operating subsidiary of General Public Utilities Corp.

Roddis said some 1,200 new coal mining jobs should result from the plant. About 100 to 175 persons will be required to operate the plant itself.

The giant electric power producing facility will include two 800,000 kilowatt units. Roddis said the first will be ready for service in 1967, the second in 1968.

NEW BRIBERY CASES OPEN IN SOUTH TODAY

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—The case of 10 men charged with 99 bribery counts in alleged attempts to fix 10 North Carolina State college basketball games was scheduled to start in Superior Court here today.

Defendants are Joseph Hacken, Aaron Wagman, Joseph Greene, Charles Tucker, Dave Budin, Michael Siegal, Lou Barshak and Paul Walker, all of New York City, and Dave Ooldberg and Steve Lekometros, both of St. Louis.

Solicitor (prosecutor) Lester Chalmers said Walker already has pleaded guilty to seven bribery counts, and Chalmers added, "I expect that several other pleas will be entered."

99 COUNTS

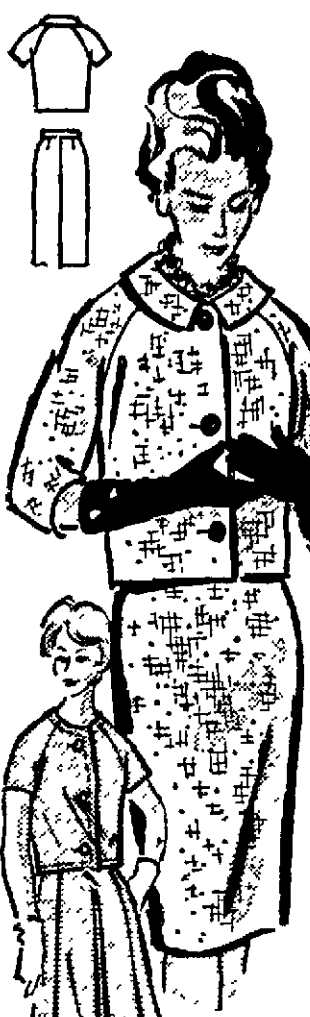

The Wake County Grand Jury returned a 99-count indictment Jan. 9. It accused the defendants of rigging the outcome of several college basketball games in Raleigh, including one contest each in the Atlantic Coast Conference Tournament and the Dixie Classic.

Expected to testify for the state are four former North Carolina State players—Stan Niewierowski, Anton Muehlbauer, Terry Litchfield and Don Gallagher—and former University of North Carolina player Lou Brown.

The indictment listed 10 games involving North Carolina State between Dec. 5, 1959 and Jan. 7, 1961, as being fixed. It said gamblers offered money to players who would perform so as to affect the outcome of the game, either by playing to lose or to shave the victory margin.

Several men charged in the indictment were not on hand. Some were being tried elsewhere, some were fighting extradition and one was still eluding law enforcement officers.

NEHRU MAKES URGENT PLEA FOR U.S. AID

WASHINGTON (AP) — India's Prime Minister Nehru has sent an urgent personal plea to President Kennedy for helicopters and transport planes.

The request was made in a letter delivered to the President on Monday by India's Ambassador B. K. Nehru, a cousin of the prime minister. Indian defenses were crumbling at the time as Red Chinese battalions advanced toward the populous plains of Assam.

The ambassador said he gave the President a report on the military situation and India's urgent defense needs in the border war. Red troops stormed on Monday over 13,756-foot Se Pass sector on the Himalayan front — which Indian troops had considered impregnable — and approached Asam, a state producing much tea, rice and oil.

India also sent requests to the U. S. State Department for more arms and equipment to supplement the $5 million worth already delivered. Engaged along a 1,500-mile frontier with Red China, India has a major problem in supply and equipment for its troops.

State Department press officer Lincoln White said the United States views seriously the large-scale Chinese attacks.

U. S. officials here are concerned that Pakistan may agree to a nonaggression pact with Red China. This would open the way for Chinese troops to go through the Chumbi Valley 40 miles to Darjeeling and snap the narrow Indian corridor to Assam.

Pakistani officials say that current negotiations with Red China are "merely to insure that there is no border trouble between the two nations such as now exists between China and India."

OUSTED TEAM OF DIPLOMATS GO TO MEXICO

NEW YORK (AP)—A Cuban husband-wife diplomatic team has left the United States at State Department request. The FBI accused the couple of supplying weapons to a pro-Castro sabotage ring that allegedly planned to unleash a reign of terror in metropolitan New York.

The couple, Jose Gomez Abad, 21, and his wife, Elsa, 20, attaches at the Cuban mission to the United Nations, flew out of Idlewild Airport late Monday, bound for Mexico City.

Because of diplomatic immunity, they were not liable to arrest for taking part in what this government called "a criminal conspiracy."

FBI HOLDS THIRD
A third member of the Cuban U. N. mission, Roberto Santiabana Casanova, 27, is being held by the FBI along with two other persons on charges of conspiracy to commit sabotage.

The FBI said Santiabana, who arrived in this country Oct. 3, had applied for diplomatic immunity but the State Department had not approved the application at the time of his arrest.

Arrested with Santiabana over the weekend were Jose Garcia Orrellana, 42, who operated a Manhattan jewelry manufacturing shop, and Marino Antonio Estaban del Carmen Suiro y Cabrera, 22, a college student who worked part time at the shop.

The FBI said agents confiscated a small arsenal of explosives and incendiary devices at Garcia's jewelry shop. The weapons had been supplied the trio by the ousted Cuban husband-wife diplomatic team, the FBI said.

SEEK CAUSE OF CHURCH BLAZE

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—Fire officials probed the ruins of the First Baptist Church of West Scranton today seeking the cause of a flash fire that destroyed the 162-year-old structure.

The blaze, which swept from basement to roof within a half hour, caused an estimated $250,000 damage Monday night.

Firemen said damage would have been higher but for the efforts of sexton Louis Daggar and others who raced in and out of the burning church to save such valuables as typewriters, duplicating machines, and hymnals.

The church, built in 1800 and one of the largest in the city's western section, underwent a $10,000 remodeling job just last June.

The fire was discovered by Daggar, who returned from a trip to mid city to find the basement filled with smoke. Flames had crept up all four walls of the exterior before the first trucks arrived, firemen said.

SMALL TURKEY RULES ROOST IN FOOD STORE

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The turkey, Thanksgiving Day favorite of the millions, rules the roost this week at food stores from coast to coast.

Prices generally are higher. Small turkeys, those under 10 pounds, were expected to be most in demand.

A wider than ever array of turkey products were being featured, including boil-in-the-bag pouches of sliced turkey with gravy, frozen turkey dinners, boned, canned turkey meat and the like.

FRUIT PLENTIFUL
Most fruit counters bulged with fowl accompaniments such as cranberries (there's a bumper crop this year), apples, grapes, oranges, grapefruit and pears.

Housewives not bound by tradition were being offered in many places ham and pork loin roasts at good prices, and broiler-fryers. Some supermarkets prominently advertised various cuts of beef at reasonable prices, notably steak cuts and pot roasts.

Such fall holiday dessert items as fruit cakes and prepared mince and pumpkin pie also were being featured.

In the vegetable line, good buys included celery, cabbage, Brussels sprouts, sweet potatoes, carrots, squash, onions, lettuce and cauliflower.

Eggs and dairy products also are reported plentiful in most areas.

BOY FEELS PAIN IN 'DEAD' ARM

BOSTON (AP)—Pain is progress and hope for a plucky young Somerville boy.

The terrible pains that 13-year-old Everett Knowles Jr. sometimes feels in his right arm and fingers indicate to doctors at Massachusetts General Hospital that all is going well in the final and crucial chapter of a battle to make medical history.

Last May 23, the red-haired youngster's arm was restored to his body after it was severed by a freight train.

Doctors who have performed a series of operations say they know of no other case where a severed limb has been restored to use with feel and motion.

In an operation Sept. 11, surgeons reconnected numerous nerve fibres.

Dr. Ronald Malt said if the nerves didn't rejoin properly the arm would be a useless adornment, subject to amputation.

BRUSHTOWN MAN KILLED BY CAVE-IN

William P. Strausbaugh, Brushstown, a 30-year-old construction worker for Utility Contractors, York, was killed Monday afternoon at about 1:30 o'clock in the partial cave-in of a 13-foot ditch being dug for a sewer line in Spring Grove.

Wilbert McMaisters, York R. 7, company foreman, said Strausbaugh was placing shoring in the newly-dynamited ditch when the accident occurred. "I yelled, 'Buck, it's starting to cave in,'" McMaisters said. "He started out of the ditch and a little piece of dirt about as big as my fist fell in front of him. He turned back. Had he kept going the way he was headed he would have been all right." McMaisters said about eight inches of dirt, probably weighing 500 pounds, fell onto Strausbaugh.

Four fellow workmen removed Strausbaugh within five minutes. A physician arrived approximately 10 minutes after the accident and pronounced the workman dead. Dr. Charles F. Hawkins, York County deputy coroner, said a autopsy showed death was due to internal hemorrhaging.

NEW EMPLOYEE
Strausbaugh began working for Utility Contractors only last Tuesday and Friday would have been his first pay day. On Saturday the Strausbaughs finished moving most of their furnishings into a new home just purchased.

A native of McSherrystown, Strausbaugh was a son of Robert and Mary Small Strausbaugh, Hanover R. 5. He was a member of the Catholic Church of the Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary, McSherrystown.

Surviving, besides his parents and his wife, the former Betty Hughes, are a son, Randy A. Strausbaugh, at home, and 12 brothers and sisters: John Strausbaugh, Hanover R. 5; Theodore Strausbaugh, Porter's Sideling; Albert Strausbaugh and Mrs. Donald Kitzmiller, both of Hanover, and Maryann, Irvin, Gary Fred, Kaye, Barbara, Paul and Linda Strausbaugh, all at home.

Funeral services Thursday at 8:30 a.m. with prayers at the Bucher Funeral Home, Hanover, followed by a Requiem Mass at 9 a.m. in Annunciation Church. The pastor, Rt. Rev. Msgr. Patrick F. McGee, will be celebrant. Interment will be in the parish cemetery.

Four Vehicles In Hanover Accident

No one was injured when a drifting car struck a truck and two autos parked in Hanover Monday night about 9 o'clock.

Hanover police said the drifting car, owned by Charles Small, 107 Main St., McSherrystown, had been parked alongside Montgomery Ward store while the operator, Mrs. Joan M. Lawrence, 609 North St., McSherrystown, was picking up packages.

Police said the vehicle drifted from its parking space and into the parked automobiles about half a block away.

Damage to the Small car was estimated by police at $75 and to one of the parked autos, owned by Janet Sease, Hanover, at $50. The truck, owned by Francis L. Byers, New Oxford R. 1, and the other parked vehicle owned by Richard Bunty, 229 North St., McSherrystown, were undamaged.

HITS PARKED CAR
An automobile driven by Jarene E. Sientz, 19, of 117 York St., and a parked auto owned by Loretta Clare Miller, Hanover, were damaged Sunday at 7 p.m. as the Sientz car, traveling north on High St., struck the left rear of the Miller home. Damage to the Sientz and Miller autos was estimated at $100 each, Hanover police said.

BLONDE CHECK

Officers found that Mrs. Stewart had been accompanied by James Mitchell. He had been in the parking lot at the Acme, she said, with her twin daughters, aged two, in the car with him.

LOCATE MAN, CAR
Chief Bartlett and Officer Shearer went in search of the car after notifying state police to also be on the lookout for it, leaving Sgt. Daniel Miller to continue the questioning of Mrs. Stewart.

About 6 o'clock State Police-man Gerald Prough was entering Gettysburg on Route 15 south looking for the black sedan with a man and twins in it. He spotted the vehicle near the Howard Johnson Restaurant and halted him, and then notified borough police.

Chief Bartlett said that several checks were found in the possession of the two. Most of them were made out to Joyce Stewart and signed by James Mitchell. In one case the check was signed by Mrs. Stewart and made out to Mitchell.

ADMIT CRIMES
Mitchell told police that his father's name was Mitchell, but that from the age of seven he had been raised by his grandparents and generally used the name of Cook.

The chief said the two admitted to passing worthless checks here, at Butler, Pa., Bradford, Pa., and Carlisle.

After the two were taken before Justice of the Peace Anna Thompson and charged with passing worthless checks they were placed in jail for a hearing later. The two small children were turned over to Adams County Child Welfare Services and placed in a foster home in the Littlestown area until Mrs. Stewart's mother, who was contacted, can arrive here within the next few days to take the twins back home with her.

PARKED CAR HIT
A car driven by Donald D. Lawver, 53, McKnightstown, struck a parked auto owned by Richard Yingling, 341 Steinwehr Ave., on Steinwehr Ave., at 9 p.m. Monday, according to the borough police report. Damage was estimated at $200 to the Lawver car and $400 to Yingling's vehicle, police said. They added that they will bring a reckless driving charge against Lawver.

SEEK POLICE HERE
Borough police today were asked to look for three missing boys from Newark, N. J., aged 15 and 16. The trio were believed to have been in Gettysburg on November 17 and 18.

SECURE LICENSE
A marriage license has been issued at the courthouse to Harvey Warner Bollinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Bollinger, Gettysburg R. 3, and Marilyn Ann Culp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Culp, 144 Hanover St.

Monsignor Garvey was rector of Holy Saviour Church for nearly 26 years.

A native of New York, he studied at Mt. St. Mary's College and Mt. St. Mary's Seminary, Emmitsburg, and was ordained to the priesthood at the seminary, June 8, 1930, by the Most Rev. John M. McNamara, auxiliary bishop of Baltimore.

U.N. Favors Quick Disarmament Act

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The General Assembly clears the way today for quick approval of a new directive to the Geneva disarmament negotiators to work until they agree on general disarmament with effective controls.

The assembly's top political committee voted 97-0 Monday to approve the resolution, sponsored by 33 nonaligned countries. France, which boycotts the Geneva talks, cast the only abstention.

Committee Chairman Omar Abdel of Sudan said the assembly would be asked to take up the resolution Wednesday on a priority basis to have it ready for the 18-nation disarmament committee scheduled to resume negotiations in Geneva Monday.

more study to various items" before turning the proposal over to the borough council for its final action.

Possibility of setting aside a section of the Recreation Field for a football field was discussed. The board reported on the enthusiastic participation by about 30 or more boys this fall in a football team for youngsters in the Sixth and Seventh Grades. The unit used the Recreation Field for practices and played elsewhere.

TO START BASKETBALL
A group of parents was in charge of the training and games. Because of the interest shown the board will consider putting up goal posts and sponsoring a football team for the Sixth-Seventh Grade age group next fall if the youngsters' interest continues.

Acting Recreation Director John Maloney reported a meeting of representatives from the Community Basketball League will be held Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the recreation office in the high school and that it is planned to start the season November 26.

Sixty-four are engaged in the Saturday morning bowling program. Plans were made to start the "stimmatics" program after the first of the year. Discussing the Halloween poster program, Maloney recommended that in addition to paints youngsters be permitted to use charcoal.

President Kenneth Dengler presided at the meeting.

SHOULD THANK GOD
"Every day should be Thanksgiving Day. In seminary, for a brief time, a Japanese boy was my roommate. His school had been chosen for him. His wife whom he would wed on his return to Japan had been chosen for him. Even the church he would serve had already been chosen. I think we should thank God that we were born in a country where we have free choice."

"We should thank God as a people that we have the health services, the food, the sanitation, whatever it is that keeps us young and healthy beyond that 30-year limit which is the lot of many peoples."

"And I have a friend who has no arms. I have also a friend who is blind. And I wonder if we thank God enough for this blessing of sight that we have. Every day should be Thanksgiving Day. And as one of a family of children who were taught to thank God before each meal I find no question there. We do thank God daily."

"But we should not do away with Thanksgiving Day. It should be made more important, as a lesson and a remembrance to us and our children and our children's children."

President Clark Smith presided at the meeting.

advantages of the rural community. But with one hour's drive of us a million people reside. The city is growing closer to us all the time.

"We do not want to become an asphalt jungle, but we can provide a service to the people who live in the cities and to ourselves. We have the opportunity to develop recreational facilities here, which we can use and which can be used by others to provide a profit for our families. The battlefield is an attraction and brings many millions here. But we can bring many more here if we develop proper recreational facilities. And we can have them also for ourselves at the same time. We have many scenic areas, beautiful farm and town houses, so many things that make our country attractive to everyone."

"Our economy is based on agriculture, education, industry and the tourist. Do you realize that by 1964 we will have a new North-South highway that will let a person pass throughout our county in about 25 minutes — never stopping at all. We will have to be attractive to get them to stop here."

Kiwanis President Roy Thomas presided. The Business and Professional Women presented a skit in Pennsylvania Dutch dialect depicting a conversation over a telephone in which a third person intervenes. Taking part were Christine Angiolis, Mrs. Mildred Murray and Mrs. Mildred Benner.

Two-District

rectors and Earl Hartzell, Fairfield; Hugh C. McIlhenny, Gettysburg Joint Board, and the board president, William M. Lott, Bermudian Springs board, voted in favor of the resolution.

"ONLY SAFE THING"
Pleased with the board's unanimous action, President Lott said he felt it represented "the only safe thing to do."

The county board instructed the county superintendent to give written notice to all school administrative units in the county of the board's action. Each district has the right of appeal to the state Council of Education. The Adams County reorganization plan will not reach Harrisburg in time for the Council's December 11 and 12 session, it was noted.

While Plan B is expected to qualify for state approval, the board members said they did not know whether the state would accept the reservations on the right to revise the plan next year. If the plan is not acceptable, it will be referred back to the county board with a new recommendation to be made by the end of 1963.

COMPARATIVE FIGURES
Plan B provides for two approximately equal third class districts. That including Gettysburg, Littlestown and Fairfield has 4,891 pupils and a population of 27,262 in the 1960 census. The market value of its real estate is $69,670,860 and it had 138.64 teaching units in 1960-61, the year on which Act 561 computations are based. The district's assessed valuation is $16,703,250.

In the other district that includes Upper Adams, Bermudian Springs, New Oxford Area, Conewago Twp. and McSherrystown, there are 4,214 pupils with a total population of 24,644. The number of teaching units is 161.38 and the market value of its real estate is $57,633,540. Its assessed valuation comes to $12,859,040.

PROMISES SUPPORT
Early in the discussion, County Superintendent M. Francis Coulson said he wished to "clear the record" on his position on the reorganization plan. He told the board he has been accused of favoring a one-district plan because of "personal aspirations."

He pointed out that under present school law the county superintendent would not be eligible for election as chief administrator of a reorganized district. He promised to support fully whatever action the county board took. That promise of complete backing for the county board was echoed later in the meeting by Coulson's assistant, George B. Inskip.

In the opening discussion Monday evening, Mr. Coulson read a letter from the state Department of Public Instruction stating that county plans not meeting minimum requirements of Act 561 and the state council would not be approved. He also presented a DPI letter to show that a single school district in the county would cost very little more than each of two districts if a two-district plan was adopted. He reviewed other economies offered by a plan involving tuition pupils—as a two-district plan will—would prove costly to both the district sending and the district accepting tuition pupils.

2-HOUR DISCUSSION
The importance of the state transportation subsidy was pointed up when Dean Asquith quoted DPI figures to show the state paid $205,461 toward transportation costs in this county in 1960-61.

The possibility of a three-district plan was suggested by Glenn Haar but dropped without a vote. The complications involved in dividing Mt. Joy Twp., which would be involved in a three-district plan, were the chief factor in dropping that proposal.

Each board member was asked to express his views. The one-district plan, the two-district plan with reservations and the advantages of each were gone over for two hours. Uncertainty about state appropriation for transportation in a second-class district and the question of director representation under reorganization were points specially emphasized.

Dean Asquith said, "If it turns out that a five-member board would be running all the schools in the county, I'd be against it forever. If there would be a 15-member board, it would be better. Administrators, in school or business, do a better job when they have resistance to their ideas."

MEMBERS GIVE VIEWS
Earl Hartzell of Fairfield said he felt anything less than a one-district plan now would be a "compromise" but he agreed that there should be reservations in view of the incompleteness of Act 561. Haar, speaking for three units, said "we're getting too big" and expressed dislike for the idea of losing local control of school affairs. Mr. McIlhenny pointed to the economies and other advantages of a single district but said he thought provision should be made to make use of legislative changes in the act expected next year.

President Lott said the "board dare not take the chance of going into one district now without recourse should second class districts be denied transportation reimbursement." He opposed the three-district proposal. Later he

William P. Strausbaugh, Brush-town, a 30-year-old construction worker for Utility Contractors, York, was killed Monday afternoon at about 1:30 o'clock in the partial cave-in of a 13-foot ditch being dug for a sewer line in Spring Grove.

Wilbert McMasters, York R. 7, company foreman, said Strausbaugh was placing shoring in the newly-dynamited ditch when the accident occurred. "I yelled, 'Buck, it's starting to cave in,'" McMasters said. "He started out of the ditch and a little piece of dirt about as big as my fist fell in front of him. He turned back. Had he kept going the way he was headed he would have been all right." McMasters said about eight inches of dirt, probably weighing 500 pounds, fell onto Strausbaugh.

Four fellow workmen removed Strausbaugh within five minutes. A physician arrived approximately 10 minutes after the accident and pronounced the workman dead. Dr. Charles F. Hawkins, York County deputy coroner, said an autopsy showed death was due to internal hemorrhaging.

NEW EMPLOYEE

Strausbaugh began working for Utility Contractors only last Tuesday and Friday would have been his first pay day. On Saturday the Strausbaughs finished moving most of their furnishings into a new home just purchased.

A native of McSherrystown, Strausbaugh was a son of Robert and Mary Small Strausbaugh, Hanover R. 5. He was a member of the Catholic Church of the Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary, McSherrystown.

Surviving, besides his parents and his wife, the former Betty Hughes, are a son, Randy A. Strausbaugh, at home, and 12 brothers and sisters: John Strausbaugh, Hanover R. 5; Theodore Strausbaugh, Porter's Sideling; Albert Strausbaugh and Mrs. Donald Kitzmiller, both of Hanover; and Maryann, Irvin, Gary Fred, Kaye, Barbara, Paul and Linda Strausbaugh, all at home.

Funeral services Thursday at 8:30 a.m. with prayers at the Bucher Funeral Home, Hanover, followed by a Requiem Mass at 9 a.m. in Annunciation Church. The pastor, Rt. Rev. Msgr. Patrick F. McGee, will be celebrant. Interment will be in the parish cemetery.

Four Vehicles In Hanover Accident

No one was injured when a drifting car struck a truck and two autos parked in Hanover Monday night about 9 o'clock.

Hanover police said the drifting car, owned by Charles Small, 107 Main St., McSherrystown, had been parked alongside Montgomery Ward store while the operator, Mrs. Joan M. Lawrence, 609 North St., McSherrystown, was picking up packages.

Police said the vehicle drifted from its parking space and into the parked automobiles about half a block away.

Damage to the Small car was estimated by police at $75 and to one of the parked autos, owned by Janet Sease, Hanover, at $50. The truck, owned by Francis L. Byers, New Oxford R. 1, and the other parked vehicle owned by Richard Buntz, 229 North St., McSherrystown, were undamaged.

HITS PARKED CAR

An automobile driven by Jarene E. Slentz, 19, of 117 York St., and a parked auto owned by Loretta Clare Miller, Hanover, were damaged Sunday at 7 p.m. as the Slentz car, traveling north on High St., struck the left rear of the Miller car parked in the front of the Miller home. Damage to the Slentz and Miller autos was estimated at $100 each, Hanover police said.

Officers found that Mrs. Stewart had been accompanied by James Mitchell. He had been in the parking lot at the Acme, she said, with her twin daughters, aged two, in the car with him.

LOCATE MAN, CAR

Chief Bartlett and Officer Shear went in search of the car after notifying state police to also be on the lookout for it, leaving Sgt. Daniel Miller to continue the questioning of Mrs. Stewart.

About 6 o'clock State Police-man Gerald Prough was entering Gettysburg on Route 15 south looking for the black sedan with a man and twins in it. He spotted the vehicle near the Howard Johnson Restaurant and halted him, and then notified borough police.

Chief Bartlett said that several checks were found in the possession of the two. Most of them were made out to Joyce Stewart and signed by James Mitchell. In one case the check was signed by Mrs. Stewart and made out to Mitchell.

ADMIT CRIMES

Mitchell told police that his father's name was Mitchell, but that from the age of seven he had been raised by his grandparents and generally used the name of Cook.

The chief said the two admitted to passing worthless checks here, at Butler, Pa., Bradford, Pa., and Carlisle.

After the two were taken before Justice of the Peace Anna Thompson and charged with passing worthless checks they were placed in jail for a hearing later. The two small children were turned over to Adams County Child Welfare Services and placed in a foster home in the Littlestown area until Mrs. Stewart's mother, who was contacted, can arrive here within the next few days to take the twins back home with her.

PARKED CAR HIT

A car driven by Donald D. Lawver, 53, McKnightstown, struck a parked auto owned by Richard Yingling, 341 Steinwehr Ave., on Steinwehr Ave., at 9 p.m. Monday, according to the borough police report. Damage was estimated at $200 to the Lawver car and $400 to Yingling's vehicle, police said. They added that they will bring a reckless driving charge against Lawver.

SEEK BOYS HERE

Borough police today were asked to look for three missing boys from Newark, N. J., aged 15 and 16. The trio were believed to have been in Gettysburg on November 17 and 18.

A marriage license has been issued at the courthouse to Harvey Warner Bollinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Bollinger, Gettysburg R. 3, and Marilyn Ann Culp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Culp, 144 Hanover St.

(AP)—The General Assembly clears the way today for quick approval of a new directive to the Geneva disarmament negotiators to work until they agree on general disarmament with effective controls. The assembly's top political committee voted 97-0 Monday to approve the resolution, sponsored by 33 nonaligned countries. France, which boycotts the Geneva talks, cast the only abstention.

Committee Chairman Omar Abdel of Sudan said the assembly would be asked to take up the resolution Wednesday on a priority basis to have it ready for the 18-nation disarmament committee scheduled to resume negotiations in Geneva Monday.

more study to various items" before turning the proposal over to the borough council for its final action.

Possibility of setting aside a section of the Recreation Field for a football field was discussed. The board reported on the enthusiastic participation by about 30 or more boys this fall in a football team for youngsters in the Sixth and Seventh Grades. The unit used the Recreation Field for practices and played elsewhere.

TO START BASKETBALL

A group of parents was in charge of the training and games. Because of the interest shown the board will consider putting up goal posts and sponsoring a football team for the Sixth-Seventh Grade age group next fall if the youngsters' interest continues.

Acting Recreation Director John Maloney reported a meeting of representatives from the Community Basketball League will be held Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the recreation office in the high school and that it is planned to start the season November 26.

Sixty-four are engaged in the Saturday morning bowling program. Plans were made to start the "slimnastics" program after the Halloween poster program. Maloney recommended that in addition to paints youngsters be permitted to use charcoal. President Kenneth Dengler presided at the meeting.

"Do not misunderstand me, I am not opposed to Christmas or to Halloween. But I think we are doing ourselves and our country a disservice by glossing over Thanksgiving.

SHOULD THANK GOD

"Every day should be Thanksgiving Day. In seminary, for a brief time, a Japanese boy was my roommate. His school had been chosen for him. His wife whom he would wed on his return to Japan had been chosen for him. Even the church he would serve had already been chosen. I think we should thank God that we were born in a country where we have free choice."

"We should thank God as a people that we have the health services, the food, the sanitation, whatever it is that keeps us young and healthy beyond that 30-year limit which is the lot of many peoples.

"And I have a friend who has no arms. I have also a friend who is blind. And I wonder if we thank God enough for this blessing of sight that we have. Every day should be Thanksgiving Day. And as one of a family of children who were taught to thank God before each meal I find no question there. We do thank God daily.

"But we should not do away with Thanksgiving Day. It should be made more important, as a lesson and a remembrance to us and our children and our children's children."

President Clark Smith presided at the meeting.

advantages of the rural community. But with one hour's drive of us a million people reside. The city is growing closer to us all the time.

"We do not want to become an asphalt jungle, but we can provide a service to the people who live in the cities and to ourselves. We have the opportunity to develop recreational facilities here, which we can use and which can be used by others to provide a profit for our families. The battlefield is an attraction and brings many millions here. But we can bring many more here if we develop proper recreational facilities. And we can have them also for ourselves at the same time. We have many scenic areas, beautiful farm and town houses, so many things that make our country attractive to everyone.

"Our economy is based on agriculture, education, industry and the tourist. Do you realize that by 1964 we will have a new North-South highway that will let a person pass throughout our county in about 25 minutes—never stopping at all. We will have to be attractive to get them to stop here."

Kiwanis President Roy Thomas presided. The Business and Professional Women presented a skit in Pennsylvania Dutch dialect depicting a conversation over a telephone in which a third person intervenes. Taking part were Christine Angiolis, Mrs. Mildred Murray and Mrs. Mildred Benner.

Two-District

rectors and Earl Hartzell, Fairfield; Hugh C. McIlhenny, Gettysburg Joint Board, and the board president, William M. Lott, Bermudian Springs board, voted in favor of the resolution.

"ONLY SAFE THING"

Pleased with the board's unanimous action, President Lott said he felt it represented "the only safe thing to do."

The county board instructed the county superintendent to give written notice to all school administrative units in the county of the board's action. Each district has the right of appeal to the state Council of Education. The Adams County reorganization plan will not reach Harrisburg in time for the Council's December 11 and 12 session, it was noted.

While Plan B is expected to qualify for state approval, the board members said they did not know whether the state would accept the reservations on the right to revise the plan next year. If the plan is not acceptable, it will be referred back to the county board with a new recommendation to be made by the end of 1963.

COMPARATIVE FIGURES

Plan B provides for two approximately equal third class districts. That including Gettysburg, Littlestown and Fairfield has 4,891 pupils and a population of 27,262 in the 1960 census. The market value of its real estate is $69,670,360 and it had 188.64 teaching units in 1960-61, the year on which Act 561 computations are based. The district's assessed valuation is $16,703,250.

In the other district that includes Upper Adams, Bermudian Springs, New Oxford Area, Conewago Twp. and McSherrystown, there are 4,214 pupils with a total population of 24,644. The number of teaching units is 161.38 and the market value of its real estate is $57,633,540. Its assessed valuation comes to $12,859,040.

PROMISES SUPPORT

Early in the discussion, County Superintendent M. Francis Coulson said he wished to "clear the record" on his position on the reorganization plan. He told the board he has been accused of favoring a one-district plan because of "personal aspirations." He pointed out that under present school law the county superintendent would not be eligible for election as chief administrator of a reorganized district. He promised to support fully whatever action the county board took. That promise of complete backing for the county board was echoed later in the meeting by Coulson's assistant, George B. Inskip.

In the opening discussion Monday evening, Mr. Coulson read a letter from the state Department of Public Instruction stating that county plans not meeting minimum requirements of Act 561 and the state council would not be approved. He also presented a DPI letter to show that a single school district in the county would cost very little more than each of two districts if a two-district plan was adopted. He reviewed other economies offered by a single district plan and then gave the board figures to show that a plan involving tuition pupils—as a two-district plan will—would prove costly to both the district sending and the district accepting tuition pupils.

2-HOUR DISCUSSION

The importance of the state transportation subsidy was pointed up when Dean Asquith quoted DPI figures to show the state paid $205,461 toward transportation costs in this county in 1960-61. The possibility of a three-district plan was suggested by Glenn Haar but dropped without a vote. The complications involved in dividing Mt. Joy Twp., which would be involved in a three-district plan, were the chief factor in dropping that proposal.

Each board member was asked to express his views. The one-district plan, the two-district plan with reservations and the advantages of each were gone over for two hours. Uncertainty about state appropriation for transportation in a second-class district and the question of director representation under reorganization were points specially emphasized.

Dean Asquith said, "If it turns out that a five-member board would be running all the schools in the county, I'd be against it forever. If there would be a 15-member board, it would be better. Administrators, in school or business, do a better job when they have resistance to their ideas."

Members GIVE VIEWS

Earl Hartzell of Fairfield said he felt anything less than a one-district plan now would be a "compromise" but he agreed that there should be reservations in view of the incompleteness of Act 561. Haar, speaking for three units, said "we're getting too big" and expressed dislike for the idea of losing local control of school affairs. Mr. McIlhenny pointed out that the economies and other advantages of a single district but said he thought provision should be made to make use of legislative changes in the act expected next year.

President Lott said the "board dare not take the chance of going into one district now without recourse should second class districts be denied transportation reimbursement." He opposed the three-district proposal. Later he

HARRISBURG (AP)—State Sen. M. Harvey Taylor, main contender for leader of the Republican State Senate, met privately with Gov.-elect William Scranton today and afterwards said he was "very happy about it."

Pressed by newsmen to say if this meant the way was now clear for his election to the powerful office of president pro tempore of the Senate, Taylor pointed to his prepared statement and said: "Didn't I say I am very happy?"

Taylor emerged alone from the conference and read to newsmen this statement:

A raging fire destroyed the Radnor, Pa., mansion of Charles Morris Young, noted 93-year-old landscape artist, Sunday evening. Mr. Young is a brother of the late Mrs. Alice Holtzworth and resided on a farm south of here along the Taneytown Rd. for a number of years. He has a number of acquaintances here.

The painter was unhurt but some 60 of his works valued at $50,000 were destroyed in the blaze.

Radnor and Bryn Mawr fire companies were called to Young's home on Hare's Lane, Radnor. The first alarm was reported at 7:30 p.m. and the blaze was not under control until after 10 p.m.

SOUNDS CAR HORN

Young, who has lived alone in the mansion since his wife's death in 1950, was resting in an upstairs bedroom when he smelled smoke.

He went to the downstairs living room where he found the hearth in front of a fireplace in flames.

After attempting to beat out the fire with a blanket, he ran out the door to his car, which he was unable to start. He then leaned on the horn until a neighbor heard the alarm and called police.

When fire units arrived at 7:45 p.m., all three stories of the frame and stone house were blazing.

GOES TO SON'S HOME

The artist, still active more than 60 years after his first Paris salon success, was taken to the home of his son, Arthur, at 1810 Delancey Place, Philadelphia.

Former President Eisenhower's People to People Program has been seeking some of Young's paintings for use in U.S. embassies abroad.

Young sometimes refers to himself as the "Constable of Radnor Township."

The house, valued at more than $50,000, was built in 1910. It was purchased by Young in 1917.

NEHRU MAKES URGENT PLEA FOR U.S. AID

WASHINGTON (AP) — India's Prime Minister Nehru has sent an urgent personal plea to President Kennedy for helicopters and transport planes.

The request was made in a letter delivered to the President on Monday by India's Ambassador B. K. Nehru, a cousin of the prime minister. Indian defenses were crumbling at the time as Red Chinese battalions advanced toward the populous plains of Assam.

The ambassador said he gave the President a report on the military situation and India's urgent defense needs in the border war. Red troops stormed on Monday over 13,750-foot Se Pass sector on the Himalayan front — which Indian troops had considered impregnable — and approached Assam, a state producing much tea, rice and oil.

India also sent requests to the U. S. State Department for more arms and equipment to supplement the $5 million worth already delivered. Engaged along a 1,500-mile frontier with Red China, India has a major problem in supply and equipment for its troops.

State Department press officer Lincoln White said the United States views seriously the large-scale Chinese attacks.

U. S. officials here are concerned that Pakistan may agree to a nonaggression pact with Red China. This would open the way for Chinese troops to go through the Chumbri Valley 40 miles to Darjeeling and snap the narrow Indian corridor to Assam.

Pakistani officials say that current negotiations with Red China are "merely to insure that there is no border trouble between the two nations such as now exists between China and India."

OUSTED TEAM OF DIPLOMATS GO TO MEXICO

NEW YORK (AP) — A Cuban husband-wife diplomatic team has left the United States at State Department request. The FBI accused the couple of supplying weapons to a pro-Castro sabotage ring that allegedly planned to unleash a reign of terror in metropolitan New York.

The couple, Jose Gomez Abad, 21, and his wife, Elsa, 20, attaches at the Cuban mission to the United Nations, flew out of Idlewild Airport late Monday, bound for Mexico City.

Because of diplomatic immunity, they were not liable to arrest for taking part in what this government called "a criminal conspiracy."

FBI HOLDS THIRD

A third member of the Cuban U.N. mission, Roberto Santiesteban Casanova, 27, is being held by the FBI along with two other persons on charges of conspiracy to commit sabotage.

The FBI said Santiesteban, who arrived in this country Oct. 3, had applied for diplomatic immunity but the State Department had not approved the application at the time of his arrest.

Arrested with Santiesteban over the weekend were Jose Garcia Orrellana, 42, who operated a Manhattan jewelry manufacturing shop, and Marino Antonio Esteban del Carmen Suroy y Cabrera, 22, a college student who worked part time at the shop.

The FBI said agents confiscated a small arsenal of explosives and incendiary devices at Garcia's jewelry shop. The weapons had been supplied the trio by the ousted Cuban husband-wife diplomatic team, the FBI said.

SEEK CAUSE OF CHURCH BLAZE

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — Fire officials probed the ruins of the First Baptist Church of West Scranton today seeking the cause of a flash fire that destroyed the 162-year-old structure.

The blaze, which swept from basement to roof within a half hour, caused an estimated $250,000 damage Monday night.

Firemen said damage would have been higher but for the efforts of sexton Louis Daggar and others who raced in and out of the burning church to save such valuables as typewriters, duplicating machines, and hymnals.

The church, built in 1800 and one of the largest in the city's western section, underwent a $10,000 remodeling job just last June.

The fire was discovered by Daggar, who returned from a trip to mid city to find the basement filled with smoke. Flames had crept up all four walls of the exterior before the first trucks arrived, firemen said.

SMALL TURKEY RULES ROOST IN FOOD STORE

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The turkey, Thanksgiving Day favorite of the millions, rules the roost this week at food stores from coast to coast.

Prices generally are higher. Small turkeys, those under 10 pounds, were expected to be most in demand.

A wider than ever array of turkey products were being featured, including boil-in-the-bag pouches of sliced turkey with gravy, frozen turkey dinners, boned, canned turkey meat and the like.

FRUIT PLENTIFUL

Most fruit counters bulged with fowl accompaniments such as cranberries (there's a bumper crop this year), apples, grapes, oranges, grapefruit and pears.

Housewives not bound by tradition were being offered in many places ham and pork loin roasts at good prices, and broiler-fryers.

Some supermarkets prominently advertised various cuts of beef at reasonable prices, notably steak cuts and pot roasts.

Such fall holiday dessert items as fruit cakes and prepared mince and pumpkin pie also were being featured.

In the vegetable line, good buys included celery, cabbage, Brussels sprouts, sweet potatoes, carrots, squash, onions, lettuce and cauliflower.

Eggs and dairy products also are reported plentiful in most areas.

BOY FEELS PAIN IN 'DEAD' ARM

BOSTON (AP) — Pain is progress and hope for a plucky young Somerville boy.

The terrible pains that 13-year-old Everett Knowles Jr. sometimes feels in his right arm and fingers indicate to doctors at Massachusetts General Hospital that all is going well in the final and crucial chapter of a battle to make medical history.

Last May 23, the red-haired youngster's arm was restored to his body after it was severed by a freight train.

Doctors who have performed a series of operations say they know of no other case where a severed limb has been restored to use with feel and motion.

In an operation Sept. 11, surgeons reconnected numerous nerve fibres.

Dr. Ronald Malt said if the nerves didn't rejoin properly the arm would be a useless adornment, subject to amputation.

Malt added it would be at least months before a full assessment of the nerve operation could be made.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

New Water Plant In Operation:

That "Gettysburg is possessed of a water plant surpassed by none in the country" was the observation made by an eminent engineer who recently viewed the work done by the Water Company at their plant along Marsh Creek during the past summer. That the town should have a plant of unusual capacity for its population is the result of the necessity to be prepared for entertaining large crowds of visitors; but the matter of capacity alone would not have required the expenditure of money made to insure the perfect filtration we now enjoy. Among the many improvements was the installation of two jewel filters that will clarify one million gallons of water a day. The ordinary consumption of the town is 450,000 gallons a day. As each of these filters is capable of filtering thoroughly 500,000 gallons a day, it will seldom be necessary to use more than the one. Total expenditure for the improvements will aggregate approximately $50,000.

Trip Up Salt River: To the music of four bands, the shrieking of numerous whistles, the clanging of bells and other varied noises the Democrats of Adams County took the Republican friends a joyous ride up Salt River on Friday evening in the first old-fashioned parade which Gettysburg has seen for almost a score of years. A long column of unique floats, gaily attired mummies and well known political figures, with transparencies on which were seen paragraphs sizing up little incidents of the recent campaign made up a display which was witnessed and enjoyed by hundreds of citizens of Gettysburg and the county. The call for illumination met with a generous response and the people of town, regardless of political affiliation, had their homes brilliantly lighted, Japanese lanterns and candles being specially prominent along the line of march. The parade was in charge of Harry E. Riddlemoser, McKnightstown, who rode William B. McIlhenny's fine riding horse and the others in charge of the parade were also well mounted while numerous figures on horseback added to the impressiveness of the occasion. The bands in the parade included the Citizens' Band of Gettysburg, the Junior Band of Littlestown, the Mountain Valley Band of Arendtsville and the Biglerville Band, all leading the contingents from their respective towns. Red lights and torches added to the general appearance of the column. Near the head of the line were the guests of honor in two open landaus. These included Congressman-elect Brodbeck and Crist Moul of Hanover; Wm. Arch McClean, Wm. T. Ziegler, Wm. A. McIlhenny, J. L. Butt, Charles S. Dunnean and Dr. P. M. Bickle of Gettysburg. Closely following were four prominent political figures furnished an open — very open — landau by Burgess Holtzworth for their trip up the saline stream, William B. McIlhenny, William H. Tipton, Calvin T. Lower and John M. Blocher. Following the main column was a large traction engine rigged up as a Salt River boat and shrieking its whistle at numerous intervals. It was called the good ship "William Biddle" and was manned by Western Maryland Railway men. Chief Hostler McClell was engineer; Harry Shriver, fireman; John Eckenrode, captain; William Zimand, admiral. "What is left of the Republican party" was the banner which adorned a large four horse wagon that brought up the rear of the parade. It contained a tiny boy who sat "All by his lonesome" in the middle of the big seven seater. The team was the product of Holtzworth Brothers' livery. The entire event was a big success, made so largely by the manner in which victor and vanquished entered into the spirit of the celebration.

Today's Talk

THE LESSON OF THE DOORS

A book written about doors would be most absorbing. Doors, in themselves are most interesting. When you look at a door, it is all mystery — until it is opened.

Doors have always thrilled me. The door to my home, the door to my office, the door to my friend's house, into which I have never before entered. These all have their appeal and strange enchantment.

I shall always recall visiting the beautiful and remarkable Sterling Library at Yale University, at the time of its dedication. Everywhere I went I found something to fascinate and charm me — but the doors! How I reveled in them. When I was in Havana, Cuba, too many years before Castro, the doors to those old Spanish and Cuban homes held me. I stood a long time before many a one of them and dreamed all sorts of dreams about the love of beauty that must have been deep within the heart of each one of the creators of those doors.

Even the simplest of doors have their charm. The door of the log hut, or the pioneer's cabin, will ever evoke deep reverence.

But the lesson of the doors is what they lead into! The meaning of them — their uses. To welcome your friend into your home, through its door, and then to lead him about the place, with its few, or many, rooms — each with its own, individual door — is to fill his very heart with fragrant hospitality.

Even our minds have doors! A great mind has many, open from all sides, into which walk all the welcomed of the earth. There are no locks to the doors of such a mind. The latch-string is easy of access.

Into such a mind (the great world mind) flow all the forces of beauty and growth that eventually make any mind rich and useful. And the many doors that lead into that mind have the invisible "welcome" in great letters upon each. And when you open one of those doors, and feast upon all that it later reveals, you fall in love with doors!

None of the doors that lead to knowledge, beauty and service in this world is locked. You may enter any at will!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Beauty Of The Double Life"

Just Folks

QUESTION

He was a faster man than I
And though I ran my best
Ere long I saw him pass me by
Victorious in the test.
For that must I be turned away
A failure on the judgment day?

He was a stronger man than I.
His body sturdier made.
He left me in the dust to lie
Beaten and sore dismayed,
But is it failure, Lord, to fight
And lose to one of greater might?

He was a shrewder man than I
And always seemed to see
Advantage with a clearer eye
Than that allowed to me,
But must success at last be told
In terms of silver and of gold?

Oh what are failure and success?
How reckoned shall they be?
Against this worldly "more and less"

What stands for victory?
Of great and little, both being true,
Which is the nobler of the two?

W. Smith and Conductor E. F. Melhorn of the Berlin Branch railway got into trouble recently with their iron horse. The engine, for some reason skidded as they were about leaving the round house at East Berlin and leaving the track, went out through the side of the building, the tender falling into a pit. The wrecking crew was summoned from Hanover to replace the engine and tender. In the meantime the mail was hauled to and from Hanover in an automobile.

The houses under construction on West Street, owned by Irvin Kelly, are nearing completion and have been rented. Gettysburg's new houses all seem to find tenants even before they are finished. The supports were moved on Monday from under the concrete bridge at The Tiber on North Washington Street. The bridge has been in use for some weeks and is giving general satisfaction. It now stands entirely completed. The residents of Mrs. John N. Bailey Sr. on North Washington St. has been repainted and a new metal roof has also been placed on the house. A general scramble for post office appointments is reported from numerous neighboring towns. The matter in Gettysburg seems to be occupying the attention of many, though little actual work has been done here. A number of candidates are said to be in the field.

FEELS TRASH TRIUMPHS IN DRAMA ON TV

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Tyrone Guthrie, a famous theatrical director, is a thoughtful student of television drama and one who is not quite as despairing of its quality as most of his intellectual peers.

Writing in a new anthology about television, "The Eighth Art," Guthrie makes the point that motion pictures and television have completely supplanted the legitimate theatre as the mass distributors of drama. In unprecedented demand for dramatic material, he adds, television's "worthy offerings, alas, slide out of sight, sucked down into the morass of trash."

Guthrie partly blames the audience for the shortage of exciting dramatic productions:

DON'T SEEK BETTER FARE

"There is little reason to suppose that most people want better fare than they are getting, and every reason to suppose that what pleases the largest number of people is what can be assimilated with the least trouble. Drama of any consequence cannot be assimilated without effort."

Lewis Friedman, producer of NBC's "Show of The Week" unlike Guthrie, is currently active in television drama and disagrees with this thesis.

"Too many of us get so tired just trying to keep up with the schedules, that the only thing that the federal building adding its charms to that of a substantial salary."

Man Who Shot T. R. Is Insane:

John Schrank, the New York man who shot Colonel Roosevelt in Milwaukee on the night of Oct. 14, has been found to be insane by the commission of five alienists, appointed to inquire into his mental state. The decision of the doctors was unanimous. It means that Schrank cannot be tried for the attempt to murder Roosevelt but that he will be committed to an asylum, probably for the rest of his life.

New Rules Cover Certain Drug Items

HARRISBURG (AP)—A cough drop-type product marketed for smokers is a drug, under a new ruling by the State Drug, Device and Cosmetics Board.

As a result of the ruling Monday any retail store handling the product, known as "smokers' drops," will have to register with the state.

It does not mean, however, that a prescription will be needed to purchase the product.

The board also ruled that insulin and oral vaccines may be sold by prescription only.

A board spokesman explained that these items generally had been considered prescription drugs, but that there had been no rule to cover them.

is seen is the bare bones of the drama," he said. "The one thing that can hide the bones is feeling—by the author, by the director, by the performers. The sole alternative to real emotion is some new plots—and no one has found a new plot in hundreds and hundreds of years."

"Actually, the only thing we can do today is to present fresh and real feelings in a dramatic form. Too often we are all so busy just getting on with the job, there's no time for it."

Wednesday night's CBS "Circle Theater" dramatization may prove controversial: It is based on the scandal in Denver when some members of the city police force were charged with being members of a safe-cracking ring. The Denver mayor will be a guest on the program.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little PASTETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath." South Penn Junior High Conference Reorganized; Snowberger Is President

Reorganization of the South Penn Junior High School Athletic Conference was started at a dinner-meeting of about 25 representatives of nine schools Monday evening at The Ranch, Chambersburg.

Clifford B. Snowberger, Gettysburg Junior High principal, was elected president; Louis Barlip, Waynesboro East, vice president, and Maurice Heckler, Scotland, secretary-treasurer.

Five schools definitely announced they desire to join the organization. They include Gettysburg, Chambersburg Central, Chambersburg Faust, Waynesboro East and Scotland.

The other four schools represented reserved their judgment until later. Their decisions will probably be made at a meeting to be held next spring when a committee will present a constitution for approval.

The conference, which will start functioning next year, will be for football and basketball.

With the demise of the South Penn Senior High Conference last year the former Junior High Conference, which operated under the same officers, also died.

Rivalries were continued between the schools under an independent basis during the past football season and will also continue that way during the coming basketball campaign.

Former members indicated their desire in reorganizing the league which resulted in Monday's get-together.

In addition to Snowberger, George Forney, athletic director at Gettysburg High School, represented the local school.

Genevieve Blatt Leads By 7,369

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Democratic incumbent Genevieve Blatt today held a 7,369 lead over Republican Audrey Kelly in the race for secretary of Internal Affairs.

An unofficial tabulation based on the canvass vote, plus absentee ballots as reported to the Associated Press from 55 of the state's 67 counties and the vote as recorded in the remaining counties by AP election day, gave Miss Blatt 4,181,183 votes. Mrs. Kelly had 2,143,614 votes.

In all cases this was not the official vote. It was official, however, in those counties which have completed their count of absentee votes — the vote which will be certified as official to the state Elections Bureau.

It will probably be midweek before the entire state is canvassed.

Soviet Invites Karsh To Russia

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet government has invited Ottawa photographer Yousuf Karsh to spend three months in Russia taking portraits of the country's great men, including Premier Khrushchev.

"I expect that it will make a remarkable collection," the world-famous photographer said here during his honeymoon. He was married recently in New York.

In Rome he was asked to photograph Pope John and did so with a borrowed camera.

"Always a great honor," he said. "Twenty-two million copies of my picture of the last Pope have been produced."

Asked if he worried whether a sitter complained about his portrait, Karsh replied: "No — I'm not working for him, I'm working for posterity, if I may immodestly say so."

Debut Together, Part Company

NEW YORK (AP) — Michele Lee and Bonnie Scott made their Broadway debuts together in "Vintage '60," then went their separate ways.

Miss Lee won an important part in "Bravo, Giovanni," while Miss Scott exhibited her charms in the prize musical "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying."

When Miss Scott announced her intention of leaving the show because of approaching motherhood, the producers set out to find a replacement. Out of all the candidates available the girl they chose was Miss Lee.

Kentucky To Get Historic Markers

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Two $15,000 allotments have been made from the Governor's Emergency Fund to mark historic sites in Kentucky. The project includes marking about 120 places, many of Civil War significance.

Test-foot high aluminum signs are being ordered from Sewak Studios of Marietta, Ohio. Small markers are being cast in the University of Kentucky's metallurgical laboratory.

Sweeney Leading Hockey Scorers

NEW YORK (AP) — Bill Sweeney of the Springfield Indians — the smooth-passing center who sets up the plays — continued to lead the American Hockey League scoring derby today with 29 points.

Official statistics showed Sweeney leading his teammate, Bruce Cline by five points. Sweeney had eight goals and 21 assists, while Cline had 14 goals, tops in the league, and 10 assists.

Willie Marshall of Hershey was third in the scoring race with 23 points, followed by Pat Hannigan, of Baltimore, with 22 and Wally Boyer of Springfield with 21.

Rookie Jacques Caron of Springfield led the goalies with a 2.33 average on 21 goals in nine games.

The Cards, the trading team so far in the off-season, obtained Groat Monday in their second major swap since the 1962 season.

Groat and relief pitcher Diomedes Olivo, 42, came to the Cards with right-hander Don Cardwell and young shortstop Julio Gotay going to Pittsburgh.

The deal came just 48 hours before the start Wednesday of baseball's annual 3-week inter-league trading period.

MVP IN 1960

The Cardinals have long had their eyes on Groat, 31, former Duke All-American basketball star who won the National League batting crown and was named the league's Most Valuable Player in 1960 when the Pirates won the pennant and beat the Yankees in the World Series.

Shortstop has been a Cardinal problem for years but St. Louis manager Johnny Keane believes Groat is the solution.

"ONE OF BEST"

"He's one of the best in the league at handling the bat," said Keane. "He's as good as anyone in baseball in the No. 2 spot in the batting order. He can go to the opposite field, he can pull, he can hit and run as well as anyone and he can bunt. He's a real leader in every way."

Groat said he's "looking forward to playing with St. Louis. I just hope I can help them."

Groat hit .294 last season, hit two homers and drove in 61 runs.

BROWN REGRETS

Gotay, 23, hit .255, also got two homers, and drove in 27 runs. His lack of experience, both at bat and in the field, had much to do with the failure of the Cards to play up to expectations as a pennant contender.

Joe L. Brown, Pirate general manager, said, "We regret losing Groat. But we are getting a great potential ball player in Cardwell. I feel we are strengthening our pitching staff."

Cardwell came to the Cardinals last month from the Chicago Cubs with George Altman and Moe Thacker. The Cards gave up pitchers Larry Jackson and Lindy McDaniel and catcher Jim Schaffer.

Cardwell, 27, had a 7-16 record last season and a 4.91 earned run average.

Olivo was a rookie last year and had 5-1 record. He struck out 66 and walked 25 and finished with a 2.79 earned run average.

NORTH NAMED TO STAR TEAM

NEW YORK (AP) — John North, Amherst's junior halfback, ran and kicked the Lord Jeff into possession of the Little Three title Saturday and gained a berth on the final weekly All-East College Division (small college) team of the ECAC, it was announced today.

The Somerville, N.J., star scored the game's only touchdown as Amherst defeated Williams 7-0, catching a 14-yard pass from Bob Santonelli, and twice sent Williams back on its heels with quick kicks.

The best afternoon's work by a lineman was turned in by Jim Quirk of Delaware. The 200-pound junior guard from Long Branch, N.J., tackled Bucknell quarterback Ron Giordano so hard on the Delaware 1 that he fumbled and Delaware recovered.

The Blue Hens then drove to Bucknell's 21 where they kicked a field goal to win 9-6. On two other occasions Quirk threw the Bison quarterback for losses.

Gap Peelle, Swarthmore quarterback, was chosen sophomore of the week for his 10 completions, good for 193 yards and two touchdowns which helped the Quakers route Haverford, 60-6.

Also making the team was end Pat Mazza of Moravian and fullback Larry Kerstetter of Susquehanna.

WINS BENEFIT GAME

TOKYO (AP) — The Detroit Tigers, after completing their 17-game goodwill tour, beat the Japan All-Stars 7-2 in a benefit exhibition game Tuesday.

The Tigers leave Tuesday night for home after their one-month tour in which they won 11, lost 4 and tied 2 games.

Net profits from Tuesday's game will be donated to the 1964 Tokyo Olympic Games fund.

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — There are cry 121 students at the College of the Bible here, but they come from 30 states, one territory and four foreign countries. The school is a graduate seminary of the Disciples of Christ Church.

ICC Blocks Plan To Cut Rail Rate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission has voted to block a move by eastern railroads to drop their freight rates on grain shipped eastward from Pittsburgh to the level charged for similar shipments from Buffalo, N.Y.

Buffalo interests had protested the plan they charged it would place grain distributors in their area at an unfair competitive disadvantage.

The proposed new rates were scheduled to become effective Wednesday.

The commission's action Monday came on a vote to suspend the proposed rates for seven months.

TO KICK WITH ARM FRACTURE

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The crippled Philadelphia Eagles plan to continue use end Bobby Walston to kick field goals and extra points even if X-rays scheduled for today show he has a fractured right arm.

"Even if his arm is fractured, Walston could do those things," said Coach Nick Skorich.

Walston was injured Sunday in the Eagles' 19-14 loss to New York at Yankee Stadium. He put off an examination Monday to go to Georgia for a speaking engagement.

The Eagles are in real bad shape as far as ends go. Hopalong Cassidy suffered a broken right leg in the Giants' game and is out for the season. Dick Lucas is out with a broken arm.

Pete Retzlaff saw action Sunday for the first time since Sept. 30 after being out with a broken arm.

PLEADS INNOCENT

Miss Rose, 19, pleaded innocent here Monday to charges of conspiracy and aiding and abetting in one of the Buffalo holdups. She allegedly drove the getaway car. She was brought here from Rochester, where she had been flown Sunday from Baltimore.

Wilcoxson and Miss Rose, who have a 15-month-old son, Kenneth, spoke briefly in a cell prior to their arrangements. It was their first meeting since they were arrested in Baltimore Nov. 10.

In the courtroom, the pair didn't exchange a word. They stood side-by-side before Judge John O. Henderson for more than five minutes while the indictment was read.

HELD IN BAIL

The couple was held in $100,000 bail each. They were taken to the Erie County Jail after the arraignments.

Nussbaum also was beind held in the jail on $100,000 bail. He was captured here Nov. 4, and the next day pleaded innocent to charges of robbing the Buffalo banks.

Wilcoxson and Nussbaum allegedly took $87,288 from a Manufacturers & Traders Trust Co. branch bank here in 1961, and $18,379 from a Federal Savings and Loan Association in 1960. Miss Rose allegedly was involved in the loan association robbery.

In addition to the five holdups Wilcoxson and Nussbaum are accused of, Wilcoxson also is charged with two other bank robberies — two in Pittsburgh, at the same bank, and one in Philadelphia.

The total loot in the eight robberies was $274,000, of which $21,000 was recovered.

NASHVILLE (AP) — Parking lots, a cafeteria and snack bar run for employees of the Baptist Sunday School board here have been ruled subject to state taxes by Tennessee Supreme Court.

The main part of the board's operations, however, were held exempt from taxes. This includes extensive publishing activities.

ED BROWN MAY NOT START IN BROWN'S GAME

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Quarterback Ed Brown of the Pittsburgh Steelers doesn't mind bench warming—as long as someone else is gathering the splinters.

But up until last Sunday, the erstwhile Chicago Bears' star had been collecting more wood than a Boy Scout on a camping trip.

Brown, who had been relegated to punting chores and place-kick holding duties, was still on the sidelines Sunday as the Washington Redskins built a 21-6 lead into the third quarter.

"BIGGEST KICK"

Then starter Bobby Layne got hurt, and Brown went to work with the zeal of a carpenter repairing a dilapidated mansion. He passed for two touchdowns and set up the game-winning field goal by Lou Michaels with another long pass in a 17-point fourth quarter explosion that overcame the stunned Redskins.

"That was one of the biggest kicks I've ever gotten out of pro ball," Brown said. "It was something like the time I threw the touchdown pass to Harlon Hill for the Chicago Bears in 1956 that helped tie the New York Giants 17-17 and put us in the (National Football League) championship (game)."

"Naturally I've been disappointed by not playing, but I haven't been discouraged," the brawny 6-foot-1, 210-pounder added. "I've been playing eight years in this league, and it's hard to sit down. But Bobby (Layne) has been doing a helluva job. And as long as we were winning, that's what counted."

Brown, who wound up statistically with 9 of 12 pass completions for 179 yards against the Redskins, reaped high praises from Steelers' coach Buddy Parker.

NO. 1 AT START

"Ed Brown certainly came through in the clutch," Parker said. "He was tremendous. Layne was having a bad day, and I had been thinking of putting Brown into the game earlier. I'm glad we have a pair of quarterbacks like those two."

However, Brown's dazzling performance may not earn him the starting quarterback slot when the Steelers meet the Browns at Cleveland next Sunday.

He started the season as the Steelers' number one signal caller but was ineffectual in the first two games. He also was less than sensational on a spot basis the last time the Steelers played the Browns—and lost 41-14.

SAYS REMARKS NOT OFFENSIVE

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Chuck Bednarik, 37-year-old veteran middle linebacker of the Philadelphia Eagles who plans to retire after this season, said today he didn't mean anything derogatory toward quarterback Sonny Jurgensen in remarks in New York Monday.

Bednarik told the Pro Football Quarterbacks Club in New York that "our quarterback is enjoying his worst year ever . . . I think his arm is 90 per cent healed. But he is having his problems." Jurgensen suffered a shoulder separation last January.

"I didn't mean anything derogatory toward Sonny," said Bednarik. "But, after all, he isn't having a good year, is he?"

Bednarik said he hears coach Nick Skorich being blamed for the Eagles' poor showing this year.

"He (Skorich) is not to blame," said Bednarik. "He's been fair and square with everyone. Nick and the rest of the coaches have worked hard. I feel they have done a good job. It's just unfortunate that our record (1-18) doesn't bear this out. This club has been hit by injuries that have taken their toll. But, as I told the luncheon, the quarterbacking isn't up to par."

Mountaineer Cage Squad Hit By Serious Injuries In Pre Season Workouts

Mt. St. Mary's cage coach, Jim Phelan, has eyed ten years in the past ten days. Over that stretch the 1962 NCAA champions have lost five front line players, some of them for extended periods.

Phelan had figured Spots Lou Martine a cinch to take over Dick Talley's forward spot. Now the big forward is sidelined, perhaps for the season, with a tendon injury. Eddie Pfeiffer, the club dynamo, has been hospitalized with a severe concussion; Bernie Haag, a hotshot Freshman with a 20-point school average at St. Agnes, Rockville Center, Pfeiffer's replacement, will watch till the new year begins. Bill McDermott, a 6'5" DeMatha star sports a cast on his knee and none knows when or if he'll be ready for action. In addition Fran Ferty, 6'5" Bethlehem Catholic ace, is hobbled by a severe wrist injury and Dave Spewak is out of action with a sprained ankle.

Even without the injuries Phelan's squad, picked by the NCAA Basketball Guide to repeat as national champions, was hurting at two spots: The forward post vacated by 14-point per game Dick Talley and the center slot where the loss of Dick Saylor and Jack Campbell add up to three inches per man and two seasons of experience.

3 SPOTS INTACT

Still, the Mountaineers do not expect to roll over and play dead for any of their opponents. Intact in three spots—provided Pfeiffer comes round quickly—the Mounties will feature the Big O, John O'Reilly, whose duffle bag sports all-star honors reaching from Maryland to Indiana; Pfeiffer, a dynamic backcourt player who triggers the offense and has more all-star honors than inches, and Dave Maloney, a crack setshot and able shooter.

Phelan figured to suffer while the rest of his green troops learned. Now the injuries have ruined his plans and what figured to be a good team with fine depth is badly off. Lou Martine, 6'3", 205 pounds, and John "the bishop" Carrell, a 6'3", 195-pound Freshman, with a tremendous eye, a knack for defense and a rugged rebounder figured to have a dogfight for the open forward spot. Now the inexperienced Freshman gets the post by default. In addition, Phelan had counted on switching both Martine and Carrell from forward to guard spots when the situation dictated. That plan goes out the window.

McDermott, 6'5", 205 pounds, like Carrell a starter at DeMatha, the nation's best high school team last season, had all but clinched the center job. A strong rebounder, quick to get the ball and get rid of it, McDermott has fine inside moves. Now Phelan has no idea when he'll be ready.

Battling for the center spot are Fran Ferty, 6'5", 200 pounds, a Bethlehem Catholic ace, and Soph Ed Folk, 6'5", 225, with limited experience. Ferty still favors a bad wrist and Phelan must readjust for the center problem which promises to be troublesome all year. If the two come along quickly, late season may be full of booty trays for unwary Mountaineer foes.

TWO FROSH SURPRISES

With Haag sidelined for at least six weeks, Phelan has not expected backup for his exciting guard duo of Pfeiffer and Maloney. Two surprising Frosh, Mike Johnston, of the Bishop Eustis Jersey Group A state champs, and Mike Schorn, of Reading Catholic, plus letterman Junior Tom Wahl will have to carry the slack here.

Johnston plays strong defense for all his 5'10" and always seems to be better the ball is. A quick mover, he's a good rebounder and shoots well from the circle area. Schorn, 5'11, is an excellent driver and a good prospect. Wahl is a superlative shooter, one of the best on the squad, who ignores defense. Mike Costello, back from service, will help in both back and front court.

As Phelan sees it squad hopes rest on the way the new men fill the trouble spots at forward and center. Last year the Mounties caught fire when they started to play defense. To date the club has been slow on defense and has not been recovering well after losing the ball. Phelan wants the squad to take its cue from last year's champs—control the ball and take the good shots rather than run and gun.

It should be a rugged season with only seven games in 23 at home. The Mount opens against Hofstra at Ennsburg on December 1.

South Penn Junior High Conference Reorganized; Snowberger Is President

Reorganization of the South Penn Junior High School Athletic Conference was started at a dinner-meeting of about 25 representatives of nine schools Monday evening at The Ranch, Chambersburg.

Clifford B. Snowberger, Gettysburg Junior High principal, was elected president; Louis Barlip, Waynesboro East, vice president, and Maurice Heckler, Scotland, secretary-treasurer.

Five schools definitely announced they desire to join the organization. They include Gettysburg, Chambersburg Central, Chambersburg Faust, Waynesboro East and Scotland.

The other four schools represented reserved their judgment until later. Their decisions will probably be made at a meeting to be held next spring when a committee will present a constitution for approval.

The conference, which will start functioning next year, will be for football and basketball.

With the demise of the South Penn Senior High Conference last year the former Junior High Conference, which operated under the same officers, also died.

Rivalries were continued between the schools under an independent basis during the past football season and will also continue that way during the coming basketball campaign.

Former members indicated their desire in reorganizing the league which resulted in Monday's get-together.

In addition to Snowberger, George Forney, athletic director at Gettysburg High School, represented the local school.

Genevieve Blatt Leads By 7,369

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Democratic incumbent Genevieve Blatt today held a 7,369 lead over Republican Audrey Kelly in the race for secretary of Internal Affairs.

An unofficial tabulation based on the canvass vote, plus absentee ballots as reported to the Associated Press from 55 of the state's 67 counties and the vote as recorded in the remaining counties by AP election day, gave Miss Blatt 2,151,183 votes. Mrs. Kelly had 2,143,814 votes.

In all cases this was not the official vote. It was official, however, in those counties which have completed their count of absentee votes — the vote which will be certified as official to the state Elections Bureau.

It will probably be midweek before the entire state is canvassed.

Soviet Invites Karsh To Russia

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet government has invited Ottawa photographer Yousuf Karsh to spend three months in Russia taking portraits of the country's great men, including Premier Khrushchev.

"I expect that it will make a remarkable collection," said the world-famous photographer said here during his honeymoon. He was married recently in New York.

In Rome he was asked to photograph Pope John and did so with a borrowed camera.

"Always a great honor," he said. "Twenty-two million copies of my picture of the last Pope have been produced."

Asked if he worried whether a sitter complained about his portrait, Karsh replied: "No — I'm not working for him, I'm working for posterity, if I may immodestly say so."

NEW YORK (AP) — Michele Lee and Bonnie Scott made their Broadway debuts together in "Vintage '60," then went their separate ways.

Miss Lee won an important part in "Bravo, Giovanni," while Miss Scott exhibited her charms in the prize musical "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying."

When Miss Scott announced her intention of leaving the show because of approaching motherhood, the producers set out to find a replacement. Out of all the candidates available the girl they chose was Miss Lee.

Kentucky To Get Historic Markers

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Two $15,000 allotments have been made from the Governor's Emergency Fund to mark historic sites in Kentucky. The project includes marking about 120 places, many of Civil War significance.

Ten-foot high aluminum signs are being ordered from Sewak Studios of Marietta, Ohio. Smaller markers are being cast in the University of Kentucky's metalurgical laboratory.

Sweeney Leading Hockey Scorers

NEW YORK (AP) — Bill Sweeney of the Springfield Indians — the smooth-passing center who sets up the plays — continued to lead the American Hockey League scoring derby today with 29 points.

Official statistics showed Sweeney leading his teammate, Bruce Cline by five points. Sweeney had eight goals and 21 assists, while Cline had 14 goals, tops in the league, and 10 assists.

Willie Marshall of Hershey was third in the scoring race with 23 points, followed by Pat Hannigan of Baltimore, with 22 and Wally Boyer of Springfield with 21.

Rookie Jacques Caron of Springfield led the goalies with a 2.33 average on 21 goals in nine games.

ONLY 1 HURDLE REMAINS FOR DARTMOUTH

By BOB HOOBING
Associated Press Sports Writer
HANOVER, N.H. (AP) — Prospective lawyers Billy King and Don McKinnon coupled with a conservative coach, Eob Blackman, have brought Dartmouth to the threshold of a perfect football season.

The final hurdle comes at Princeton on Saturday, where success would mean the surprising Indians had equalled the record of the 1925 team — only unbeaten, untied eleven in the school's history.

In his dual roles as quarterback and captain, King, from Richmond, Va., has been both a maste mechanic and an inspirational leader. McKinnon, who weighs 216 pounds, is the key linebacker figure in one of the nation's stingiest defenses. Both are pre-law majors.

The gamble was the three-unit substitution plan the Big Green has used en route to an 8-0 record, the same posted by the 1925 club led by Andrew James (Swede) Oberlander.

"This team has been a real big surprise to us," says Blackman, the cherubic-looking genius who ranks among the top 10 active coaches in won-lost percentage. "We honestly didn't think it would be this good."

USTFF IN FEUD WITH AAU ON TRACK MEET

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The U.S. Track and Field Federation, feuding with the AAU for more collegiate recognition in the selection of Olympic athletes, stages its first 10,000-meter cross-country run here Thursday.

Nine universities will enter five-man teams, and 34 individuals also will go in the event, which does not have AAU sanction.

Larry Snyder, Ohio State track coach who piloted the American team in the 1960 Olympics, said:

"The AAU had its cross-country event scheduled at the same time, so we challenged 'em by putting on a Thanksgiving Day race, too. Now the AAU has postponed its event."

"We are just trying to prove that the collegiate track people are the real track people in this country — and we want to have more to say about who represents us in the Olympics."

"We must build up our case in the eyes of the public if we are to get our dues — and this is the first big test."

RUSS COURT TEAMS LEAD

MOUNT PLEASANT, Iowa (AP) — Iowa girls definitely are no match for Russian women on the basketball court, and it's beginning to look as if the Soviet men may also win their duel with the Americans.

The Russian women overpowered the Iowa Wesleyan Tigerettes 88-38 Monday night, and the men pinned the NAIA All-Stars 83-82 on a desperation shot at the final buzzer.

The women's victory was their fifth straight over American girls, and the men's triumph was their third in a row and gave them a 3-2 edge with three games to play in the tour.

A crowd of 1,100 turned out for the exhibitions here and saw a blazing battle between the men with the lead changing hands three times in the last 40 seconds.

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — There are only 131 students at the College of the Bible here, but they come from 30 states, one territory and four foreign countries. The school is a graduate seminary of the Disciples of Christ Church.

SOUTHERN CAL GETS TOP SPOT IN GRID POLL

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Southern California rushed in today where angels fear to tread and took over the jinx-loaded No. 1 spot in The Associated Press major college football rankings in a tight finish with Mississippi, another unbeaten power.

The fall of Alabama, last week's leader, after its upset by Georgia Tech, opened the door for Southern California, Mississippi, Wisconsin, Texas and Minnesota to rush past the Crimson Tide which dropped to the No. 6 rung.

Southern California's unbeaten Trojans, who just did get past Navy 13-6, drew 20 first-place votes to 15 for Mississippi, a 19-6 winner over Tennessee. The remainder of the 48 votes from the guest panel of sports writers and sportscasters participating in the weekly Associated Press poll were spread over four teams with Wisconsin, No. 3, getting seven firsts, Penn State three, Texas two and Minnesota one.

PSU RETURNS
On a point score with 10 for a first place ballot, nine for second and so on down, Southern California had a 439-403 margin over Mississippi.

Missouri, beaten by Oklahoma 13-0, and Northwestern, a 31-7 loser to Michigan State, dropped out of the top ten. Penn State, a romping 46-20 winner over Holy Cross, and Oklahoma, moved in.

The top ten with first place votes in parentheses:
1. Southern California (20) 439
2. Mississippi (15) 403
3. Wisconsin (7) 384
4. Texas (2) 326
5. Minnesota (1) 235
6. Alabama 232
7. Arkansas 209
8. Louisiana State 140
9. Penn State (3) 94
10. Oklahoma 43

TO KICK WITH ARM FRACTURE
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The crippled Philadelphia Eagles plan to continue use end Bobby Walston to kick field goals and extra points even if X-rays scheduled for today show he has a fractured right arm.

"Even if his arm is fractured, Walston could do those things," said Coach Nick Skorich.

Walston was injured Sunday in the Eagles' 19-14 loss to New York at Yankee Stadium. He put off an examination Monday to go to Georgia for a speaking engagement.

The Eagles are in real bad shape as far as ends go. Hopalong Cassidy suffered a broken right leg in the Giants' game and is out for the season. Dick Lucas is out with a broken arm.

Pete Retzlaff saw action Sunday for the first time since Sept. 30 after being out with a broken arm.

PIRATES TO KEEP TRADING

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Gen. Mgr. Joe L. Brown of the Pittsburgh Pirates is talking like a kid with doubles of bubble gum baseball cards.

He's made one trade and he's ready and raring to make more. "This will not be the last major deal announced by us this year," Brown said Monday following disclosure of the trade with the St. Louis Cardinals.

The Pirates gave up shortstop and team captain Dick Groat and relief hurler Diomedes Olivo for pitcher Don Cardwell and shortstop Julio Gotay.

Interleague trading begins Wednesday.

"I anticipate we will talk with 10 or more clubs. Prospects are bright for a trade with some of the clubs."

Brown declined to be specific, following his usual policy. He never names names or teams. But he must be given credit for one characteristic — he is a man of his word.

ICC Blocks Plan To Cut Rail Rate
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission has voted to block a move by eastern railroads to drop their freight rates on grain shipped eastward from Pittsburgh to the level charged for similar shipments from Buffalo, N.Y.

Buffalo interests had protested the plan. They charged it would place grain distributors in their area at an unfair competitive disadvantage.

The proposed new rates were scheduled to become effective Wednesday.

The commission's action Monday came on a vote to suspend the proposed rates for seven months.

Six returning lettermen give a bright outlook to the New Oxford High School basketball picture for the 1962-63 season which gets underway Friday, November 30, when Ellis Diviney's Colonials play at South Western.

Another letterman, Dick Higginbotham is not seeking a berth this year.

Coach Diviney lost three other regulars via graduation last year, Gary Smith, Tom Scheivert and Dick Boose.

WILCOXSON, GIRL PROCLAIM EACH INNOCENT
BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Accused bank robber Bobby Randall Wilcoxson says his girl friend, Jacqueline Rose, is "in no way guilty of any crimes," and she says he's a "good guy" and his alleged partner, Albert F. Nussbaum Jr., is the "bad guy."

Wilcoxson, 33, pleaded innocent in U.S. District Court Monday to two Buffalo Bank holdups totaling $106,000. He had been driven here earlier in the day from Brooklyn, where he had pleaded innocent last week to a bank hold-up there. Wilcoxson allegedly shot a bank guard to death in that holdup.

Nussbaum, accused of collaborating with Wilcoxson on the Brooklyn holdup, the two in Buffalo and one each in Washington, D.C., and Rochester, N.Y., was scheduled to leave today for Brooklyn for arraignment on a charge of holding up the bank there.

PLEADS INNOCENT
Miss Rose, 19, pleaded innocent here Monday to charges of conspiracy and aiding and abetting in one of the Buffalo holdups. She allegedly drove the getaway car. She was brought here from Rochester, where she had been flown Sunday from Baltimore.

Wilcoxson and Miss Rose, who have a 15-month-old son, Kenneth, spoke briefly in a cell prior to their arraignments. It was their first meeting since they were arrested in Baltimore Nov. 10.

In the courtroom, the pair didn't exchange a word. They stood side-by-side before Judge John O. Henderson for more than five minutes while the indictment was read.

HELD IN BAIL
The couple was held in $100,000 bail each. They were taken to the Erie County Jail after the arraignments.

Nussbaum also was being held in the jail on $100,000 bail. He was captured here Nov. 4, and the next day pleaded innocent to charges of robbing the Buffalo banks.

Wilcoxson and Nussbaum allegedly took $87,288 from a Manufacturers & Traders Trust Co. branch bank here in 1961, and $18,979 from a Federal Savings and Loan Association in 1960. Miss Rose allegedly was involved in the loan association robbery.

In addition to the five holdups Wilcoxson and Nussbaum are accused of, Wilcoxson also is charged with three other bank robberies — two in Pittsburgh, at the same bank, and one in Philadelphia.

The total loot in the eight robberies was $274,000, of which $21,000 was recovered.

NASHVILLE (AP) — Parking lots, a cafeteria and snack bar run for employees of the Baptist Sunday School board here have been ruled subject to state taxes by Tennessee Supreme Court.

The main part of the board's operations, however, were held exempt from taxes. This includes extensive publishing activities.

ED BROWN MAY NOT START IN BROWN'S GAME

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Quarterback Ed Brown of the Pittsburgh Steelers doesn't mind bench warming — as long as someone else is gathering the splinters.

But up until last Sunday, the erstwhile Chicago Bears' star had been collecting more wood than a Boy Scout on a camping trip.

Brown, who had been relegated to punting chores and place-kick holding duties, was still on the sidelines Sunday as the Washington Redskins built a 21-6 lead into the third quarter.

"BIGGEST KICK"
Then starter Bobby Layne got hurt, and Brown went to work with the zeal of a carpenter repairing a dilapidated mansion. He passed for two touchdowns and set up the game-winning field goal by Lou Michaels with another long pass in a 17-point fourth quarter explosion that overcame the stunned Redskins.

"That was one of the biggest kicks I've ever gotten out of pro ball," Brown said. "It was something like the time I threw the touchdown pass to Harlon Hill for the Chicago Bears in 1956 that helped tie the New York Giants 17-17 and put us in the (National Football League) championship (game)."

"Naturally I've been disappointed by not playing, but I haven't been discouraged," the brawny 6-foot-1, 210-pounder added. "I've been playing eight years in this league, and it's hard to sit down. But Bobby (Layne) has been doing a helluva job. And as long as we were winning, that's what counted."

Brown, who wound up statistically with 9 of 12 pass completions for 179 yards against the Redskins, reaped high praises from Steelers' coach Buddy Parker.

NO. 1 AT START
"Ed Brown certainly came through in the clutch," Parker said. "He was tremendous. Layne was having a bad day, and I had been thinking of putting Brown into the game earlier. I'm glad we have a pair of quarterbacks like those two."

However, Brown's dazzling performance may not earn him the starting quarterback slot when the Steelers meet the Browns at Cleveland next Sunday.

He started the season as the Steelers' number one signal caller but was ineffectual in the first two games. He also was less than sensational on a spot basis the last time the Steelers played the Browns — and lost 41-14.

Mountaineer Cage Squad Hit By Serious Injuries In Pre Season Workouts

Milt Schmidt In As Bruins' Coach

BOSTON (AP) — Milt Schmidt, replacing the man who replaced him as Boston Bruins coach, listed today a plain-talking squad meeting and a change in the goaltender system atop his agenda.

An all-time National Hockey League great as a Bruins player and team coach from 1955 through 1960-61, Schmidt regained the coaching position Monday, succeeding Phil Watson.

Boston is in the NHL cellar and on a 13-game winless streak. The Bruins haven't won since their opening 5-0 triumph over Montreal.

"This is a tough situation," Schmidt said of the news which "came to me completely out of the blue."

VILLANOVA'S SIGHTS SET ON NCAA VICTORY

NEW YORK (AP) — Vic Zwolak, who doesn't even pant when he has finished running 5 miles, set his sights today on the NCAA cross-country championship next Monday at Michigan State.

Zwolak, a Villanova junior, won the ICA title Monday and in the process led the Wildcats to their first team victory in the long history of the event. He covered the 5-mile Van Cortlandt Park course in 24 minutes, 47.3 seconds.

"I think I have a chance in the national championships," he said.

"WE'LL DO BETTER"
He also said he thought the Villanova team could dethrone Oregon State for the title.

"We'll do better there than we did in the ICA meet," the chunky, 21-year-old ex-Marine said. "For one thing, we'll get more help from Tom Sullivan."

The 20-year-old Sullivan, who made headlines two years ago when he clocked a 4:03.5 mile as a schoolboy and won the freshman competition last year, staggered in 20th. Had he faltered much more, Villanova would not have whipped Michigan State, the defending champion, 49-53.

NAME WHITE TO HALL OF FAME
NEW YORK (AP) — Associate Supreme Court Justice Byron R. White, known as "Whizzer" during his collegiate football playing days at Colorado and with the professional Pittsburgh Steelers, will receive the sixth gold medal of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame.

Justice White will join 12 new inductees into Football's Hall of Fame at the ceremony, Dec. 4, it was announced today. Eleven of those to be inducted are former players, the 12th former Dartmouth and Brown University Coach Tuss McLaughery.

The former players to be inducted are Pat O'Dea of Wisconsin; Phil King, Princeton; Jack Minds, Penn; Andy Wyant, Bucknell and Chicago; Benny Boynton, Williams; Guy Chamberlain, Nebraska; Dan Hill, Duke; Cal Hubbard, Centenary and Geneva; John McEwan, Army; Joe Rott, Texas A&M, and Bill Spears, Vanderbilt. O'Dea, King and Rott are deceased.

Battling for the center spot are Fran Fenerty, 6'5", 200 pounds, a Bethlehem Catholic ace, and Soph Ed Folk, 6'5", 225, with limited experience. Fenerty still favors a bad wrist and Phelan must readjust for the center problem which promises to be troublesome all year. If the two come along quickly, late season may be full of booby traps for unwary Mountaineer foes.

TWO FROSH SURPRISES
With Haag sidelined for at least six weeks, Phelan has not expected backup for his exciting guard duo of Pfeiffer and Malone. Two surprising frosh, Mike Johnston, of the Bishop Eustis Jersey Group A state champs, and Mike Schorn, of Reading Catholic, plus letterman Junior Tom Wahl will have to carry the slack here.

Johnston plays strong defense for all his 5'10" and always seems to be better the ball is. A quick mover, he's a good rebounder and shooter well from the circle area. Schorn, 5'11, is an excellent driver and a good prospect. Wahl is a superlative shooter, one of the best on the squad, who ignores defense. As Phelan sees it squad hopes rest on the way the new men fill the trouble spots at forward and center. Last year the Mounties caught fire when they started to play defense. To date the club has been slow on defense and has not been recovering well after losing the ball. Phelan wants the squad to take its cue from last year's champs — control the ball and take the good shots rather than run and gun.

It should be a rugged season with only seven games in 23 at home. The Mount opens against Hofstra at Emmittsburg on December 1.

CHOOSE JURY IN BRIBE TRIAL
RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Selection of a jury was expected to begin in the long-awaited Wake County Superior Court trial into charges connected with the widespread college basketball game-fixing scandal.

Two defendants, Dave Goldberg and Steve Lekomatros, both of St. Louis, pleaded innocent at their arraignment on multiple bribery charges Monday.

Lou Barshak and Michael Siegel pleaded nolo contendere (no contest) and Solicitor Lester Chalmers said he expected Aaron Wagman and Joseph Green to do the same. Paul Walker already has pleaded guilty. All are from New York City.

They and others were named in 10 indictments involving more than 100 counts of bribing or attempting to bribe college basketball players to throw games or shave points.

Mentioned in the indictments were 10 games involving North Carolina State College between March 1959, and January 1961.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Heavyweight boxing champion Sonny Liston says he will move from Philadelphia, where he has had three brushes with the law, and take up permanent residence in Chicago.

Liston said Monday night he has arranged for the sale of his house here.

He said he and his wife, Geraldine, will leave for Chicago today to complete the purchase of a home there.

New Water Plant In Operation:
That "Gettysburg is possessed of a water plant surpassed by none in the country" was the observation made by an eminent engineer who recently viewed the work done by the Water Company at their plant along Marsh Creek during the past summer. That the town should have a plant of unusual capacity for its population is the result of the necessity to be prepared for entertaining large crowds of visitors; but the matter of capacity alone would not have required the expenditure of money made to insure the perfect filtration we now enjoy. Among the many improvements was the installation of two jewel filters that will clarify one million gallons of water a day. The ordinary consumption of the town is 450,000 gallons a day. As each of these filters is capable of filtering thoroughly 500,000 gallons a day, it will seldom be necessary to use more than the one. Total expenditure for the improvements will aggregate approximately $50,000.

Trip Up Salt River: To the music of four bands, the shrieking of numerous whistles, the clanging of bells and other varied noises the Democrats of Adams County took the Republican friends a joyous ride up Salt River on Friday evening in the first old-fashioned parade which Gettysburg has seen for almost a score of years. A long column of unique floats, gaily attired merrymen and well known political figures, with transparencies on which were keen paragraphs sizing up little incidents of the recent campaign made up a display which was witnessed and enjoyed by hundreds of citizens of Gettysburg and the county. The call for illumination met with a generous response and the people of town, regardless of political affiliation, had their homes brilliantly lighted, Japanese lanterns and candles being specially prominent along the line of march. The parade was in charge of Harry E. Riddemoser, McKnightstown, who rode William B. McIlhenny's fine riding horse and the others in charge of the parade were also well mounted while numerous figures on horseback added to the impressiveness of the occasion. The bands in the parade included the Citizens' Band of Gettysburg, the Junior Band of Littlestown, the Mountain Valley Band of Arendtsville and the Biglerville Band, all leading the contingents from their respective towns. Red lights and torches added to the general appearance of the column. Near the head of the line were the guests of honor in two open landaus. These included Congressman-elect Brodbeck and Crist Moul of Hanover; Wm. Arch McClean, Wm. T. Ziegler, Wm. A. McIlhenny, J. L. Butt, Charles S. Duncan and Dr. P. M. Bieke of Gettysburg. Closely following were four prominent political figures furnished an open — very open — landau by Burgess Holtzworth for their trip up the saline stream, William B. McIlhenny, William H. Tipton, Calvin T. Lower and John M. Blocher. Following the main column was a large traction engine ragged up as a Salt River boat and shrieking its whistle at numerous intervals. It was called the good ship "William Biddle" and was manned by Western Maryland Railway men. Chief Hostler McClell was engineer. Harry Shriver, fireman; John Eckenrode, captain; William Zinzand, admiral. "What is left of the Republican party" was the banner which adorned a large four horse wagon that brought up the rear of the parade. It contained a tiny boy who sat "All by his lonesome" in the middle of the big seven seater. The team was the product of Holtzworth Brothers' livery. The entire event was a big success, made so largely by the manner in which victor and vanquished entered into the spirit of the celebration.

THE LESSON OF THE DOORS
A book written about doors would be most absorbing. Doors, in themselves are most interesting. When you look at a door, it is all mystery — until it is opened.

Doors have always thrilled me. The door to my home, the door to my office, the door to my friend's house, into which I have never before entered. These all have their appeal and strange enchantment.

I shall always recall visiting the beautiful and remarkable Sterling Library at Yale University, at the time of its dedication. Everywhere I went I found something to fascinate and charm me — but the doors! How I reveled in them. When I was in Havana, Cuba, too many years before Castro, the doors to those old Spanish and Cuban homes held me. I stood a long time before many a one of them and dreamed all sorts of dreams about the love of beauty that must have been deep within the heart of each one of the creators of those doors.

Even the simplest of doors have their charm. The door of the log hut, or the pioneer's cabin, will ever evoke deep reverence. But the lesson of the doors is what they lead into! The meaning of them — their uses. To welcome your friend into your home, through its door, and then to lead him about the place, with its few, or many, rooms — each with its own, individual door — is to fill his very heart with fragrant hospitality.

Even our minds have doors! A great mind has many, open from all sides, into which walk all the welcomed of the earth. There are no locks to the doors of such a mind. The latch-string is easy of access.

Into such a mind (the great world mind) flow all the forces of beauty and growth that eventually make any mind rich and useful. And the many doors that lead into that mind have the invisible "welcome" in great letters upon each. And when you open one of those doors, and feast upon all that it later reveals, you fall in love with doors!

None of the doors that lead to knowledge, beauty and service in this world is locked. You may enter any at will!

QUESTION
He was a faster man than I
And though I ran my best
Ere long I saw him pass me by
Victorious in the test.
For that must I be turned away
A failure on the judgment day?

He was a stronger man than I.
His body sturdier made.
He left me in the dust to lie
Beaten and sore dismayed,
But is it failure, Lord, to fight
And lose to one of greater might?

He was a shrewder man than I
And always seemed to see
Advantage with a clearer eye
Than that allowed to me,
But must success at last be told
In terms of silver and of gold?

Oh what are failure and success?
How reckoned shall they be?
Against this worldly "more and less?"
What stands for victory?
Of great and little, both being true,
Which is the nobler of the two?

W. Smith and Conductor E. F. Melhorn of the Berlin Branch railway got into trouble recently with their iron horse. The engine, for some reason skidded as they were about leaving the round house at East Berlin and leaving the track, went out through the side of the building, the tender falling into a pit. The wrecking crew was summoned from Hanover to replace the engine and tender. In the meantime the mail was hauled to and from Hanover in an automobile.

The houses under construction on West Street, owned by Irvn Kelly, are nearing completion and have been rented. Gettysburg's new houses all seem to find tenants even before the are finished. The supports were removed on Monday from under the concrete bridge at the Tiber on North Washington Street. The bridge has been in use for some weeks and is giving general satisfaction. It now stands entirely completed. The residents of Mrs. John N. Bailey Sr. on North Washington St. has been repainted and a new metal roof has also been placed on the house. A general scramble for post office appointments is reported from numerous neighboring towns. The matter in Gettysburg seems to be occupying the attention of many, though little actual work has been done here. A number of candidates are said to be in the field,

FEELS TRASH TRIUMPHS IN DRAMA ON TV

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Tyrone Guthrie, a famous theatrical director, is a thoughtful student of television drama and one who is not quite as despairing of its quality as most of his intellectual peers.

Writing in a new anthology about television, "The Eighth Art," Guthrie makes the point that motion pictures and television have completely supplanted the legitimate theatre as the mass distributors of drama. In unprecedented demand for dramatic material, he adds, television's "worthy offerings, alas, slide out of sight, sucked down into the morass of trash."

Guthrie partly blames the audience for the shortage of exciting dramatic productions:

DON'T SEEK BETTER FARE
"There is little reason to suppose that most people want better fare than they are getting, and every reason to suppose that what pleases the largest number of people is what can be assimilated with the least trouble. Drama of any consequence cannot be assimilated without effort."

Lewis Friedman, producer of NBC's "Show of the Week" unlike Guthrie, is currently active in television drama and disagrees with this thesis.

"Too many of us get so tired just trying to keep up with the schedules, that the only thing that

Man Who Shot T. R. Is Insane:
John Schrank, the New York man who shot Colonel Roosevelt in Milwaukee on the night of Oct. 14, has been found to be insane by the commission of five alienists appointed to inquire into his mental state. The decision of the doctors was unanimous. It means that Schrank cannot be tried for the attempt to murder Roosevelt but that he will be committed to an asylum, probably for the rest of his life.

FALSE TEETH

That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTERE, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath." New Rules Cover Certain Drug Items

HARRISBURG (AP)—A cough drop-type product marketed for smokers is a drug, under a new ruling by the State Drug, Device and Cosmetics Board.

As a result of the ruling Monday any retail store handling the product, known as "smokers' drops," will have to register with the state.

It does not mean, however, that a prescription will be needed to purchase the product.

The board also ruled that insulin and oral vaccines may be sold by prescription only.

A board spokesman explained that these items generally had been considered prescription drugs, but that there had been no rule to cover them.

is seen is the bare bones of the drama," he said. "The one thing that can hide the bones is feeling—by the author, by the director, by the performers. The sole alternative to real emotion is some new plots—and no one has found a new plot in hundreds and hundreds of years.

"Actually, the only thing we can do today is to present fresh and real feelings in a dramatic form. Too often we are all so busy just getting on with the job, there's no time for it."

Wednesday night's CBS "Circle Theater" dramatization may prove controversial: It is based on the scandal in Denver when some members of the city police force were charged with being members of a safe-cracking ring. The Denver mayor will be a guest on the program.

PA. SENATE PRO TEM IS KEY POSITION

By VINCENT P. CAROCCI
HARRISBURG (AP)—The office of president pro tempore of the State Senate is—as one observer explained—"only as powerful as the pro tempore himself wants it to be."

The political potentiality of this office bounced unexpectedly into the public limelight last week.

Sen. Thomas Ehrgood, 39-year-old Republican solon from Lebanon, announced he would oppose the election of 86-year-old Sen. M. Harvey Taylor as pro tempore for the legislative session to begin Jan. 1.

IN GOP HANDS
The office goes to the majority party and the Republicans gained control in the Nov. 6 election.

Taylor, a Harrisburg Republican, prominent these many years in party politics, has proclaimed his intense desire to be reelected pro tempore, a post he held prior to 1961 when the Democrats won Senate control.

But why this consternation among the Senate Republicans over the selection of a pro tempore?

The office was created in the

PA. SENATE PRO TEM IS KEY POSITION

State Constitution of 1874 in order to provide for "a continuity in the office of the presiding officer of the Senate."

2ND IN SUCCESSION
Constitutionally, the presiding officer of the Senate is the lieutenant governor of the state. The pro tempore, the Constitution provides, is to assume the duties of the lieutenant governor "in any case of absence or disability."

In addition, the pro tempore stands second in line—behind the lieutenant governor—as a successor to the governor's chair.

But the pro tempore's power lies within the chamber. Senate rules provide that he will name the chairmen and the members of the Senate's 23 standing committees.

And, in the event of the absence or disability of the lieutenant governor, as presiding officer he is authorized to refer "all bills and joint resolutions" to the "appropriate" committee.

CAN HELP, HINDER
Therein lies his undetermined power. It is within the pro tempore's power to determine the appropriate committee.

A pro tem opposed to the program of the governor can block his legislation simply by referral to a hostile committee. Or, reciprocally, a pro tem in support of the governor can assist the passage of the legislation through referral to a friendly committee.

It takes a constitutional major-

TO MEET GIARDELLO

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—George Benton, fourth-ranking middleweight boxing contender, looked ahead today to a January rematch with Joey Giardello after scoring a ninth round technical knockout over Allan Harmon of Kingston, Jamaica, in a scheduled 10-rounder.

Benton's victory Monday night at the Arena was his seventh straight since last November including impressive decision wins over Jesse Smith last June and Giardello in September.

It was 26 Senate votes to withdraw a bill from committee for referral. This, in critical cases, may be more difficult to accomplish in fact than it is to write in theory.

Many a strong bill can be stripped of its meat in committee, if so desired.

Golf Pro's Wife Killed In Crash

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — The wife of the assistant golf pro at the Valley Country Club in Hazleton and a man were killed Monday night when the small sports car in which they were riding overturned on Route 115 at Blakesly Corners, east of here.

The victims, Mrs. Elizabeth Malone, 34, of Wheaton, Md., and Anthony Pittman Sr., 56, of Freeport, Pa., were thrown from the car.

State police said Mrs. Malone's husband, Charles, discovered the accident. Malone was driving a car preceding Pittman's vehicle by about a quarter of a mile. Officers said Malone went back to see what happened to the other car when he waited for it at a traffic light and it failed to appear.

CONFIDANT OF HOFFA TO BE TRIED IN FEB.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Raymond Cohen, a confidant of Teamsters' boss James R. Hoffa and a trustee of the union, has been scheduled for trial in February along with five other men on charges of conspiracy to defraud the treasury of Local 107.

Cohen, secretary-treasurer of Local 107, and the other men all pleaded not guilty at their arraignment Monday before Joseph Scanlon, criminal courts trial commissioner.

The defendants were indicted in September, 1959, on charges that grew out of investigation by the Senate Rackets Committee which has denounced Cohen. The indictment did not list any sum of money.

ASKS NEW ELECTION

Only Monday, Cohen's leadership survived an effort by an insurgent faction, known as The Voice of the Teamsters, to quit the Teamsters and rejoin the AFL CIO. A National Labor Relations Board election involving truckers from Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland, resulted in a 3,870 vote for the Teamsters compared to 3,274 for The Voice.

James F. Doherty, lawyer for The Voice, said he would petition the NLRB to order a new election on grounds of what he said was pre-election violence and "employer cooperation with the Teamsters."

In addition to Cohen, the others who pleaded not guilty Monday were: Benjamin Lapensohn, former public relations man for Local 107; Edward F. Walker, recording secretary of the local; Joseph E. Hartsough, Cohen's bookkeeper; Abraham D. Berman, a business agent; and John J. Elco, a member of the local.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies open their home season Tuesday night, April 9, against the Cincinnati Reds and close with a single game against the Los Angeles Dodgers Sunday, Sept. 15, General Manager John Quinn announced Monday. The schedule, Quinn said, will include 47 night games.

Blame Followers Of Castro For Bomb

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A bomb exploded in front of the home of Cuban Revolutionary Council President Jose Miro Cardona today, destroying his automobile.

The blast occurred an hour after the exile leader had returned from Washington where he conferred with U.S. officials and Latin-American diplomats on the Cuban situation.

"The bomb must have been placed by followers of Fidel Castro," said an aide of Miro Cardona.

BOMB SCARE HITS SCHOOL

LOCK HAVEN, Pa. (AP) — Classes at Lock Haven High School were delayed for an hour and a half Monday while police and demolition experts investigated a reported bomb scare.

However, nothing was found and school resumed at 9:35 a.m. Dr. Wayne Hoy, city superintendent of schools, said the scare was probably "the work of a prankster who had seen it done on television."

The scare was first reported at 7:10 a.m.—just 50 minutes before school usually opened. It came in an anonymous telephone call to Guy Basinger, police clerk at city police headquarters.

The caller said a bomb had been planted "somewhere" in the three-story school building. Students arriving at the school were kept outside, then later herded into the school gymnasium in another building because of cold weather. Hoy estimated that at least 900 boys and girls were in the gym.

The school has a student population of about 2,000. Police searched the school, room by room, for about two hours, but could find no indication of a bomb.

NEW YORK (AP)—Three Pennsylvania football players—two line men and a fullback—held positions today on the weekly all-East ECAC team. The team, announced Monday, had Penn's Tom Elgar at fullback, Pittsburgh's Jim Irwin at guard and Charlie Johnson of Villanova at tackle.

DR. BOEHM IS SILENT ABOUT ROAD AHEAD

By FRED WALTERS

HARRISBURG (AP) — State school superintendent Charles H. Boehm is maintaining silence on his plans in the face of a change-over in the state administration. One of the most popular, guessing games around Capitol Hill these days is the 59-year-old superintendent's plans.

If he chooses, he can stay in his job as $20,000 a year chief school administrator until Sept. 12, 1964, when his four-year term expires.

HAS TENURE

The superintendent of public instruction alone among the appointed department heads has tenure guaranteed by the state Constitution.

If Gov. Elect Scranton doesn't want him, and Boehm doesn't want to leave, it would mean nearly two years of strained relations between the governor and the head of the biggest department—moneywise—in state government. Scranton's thinking on this question has not been revealed publicly.

IS REPUBLICAN

He has made no contact with Boehm, who is a registered Republican, serving his second Democratic administration.

The superintendent says "I don't know" in answer to questions as to what he would do if Scranton asks for his resignation. But in an interview about his plans, Boehm talked about the future, about things that need to be done. In short, he talked like a man who intends to stay put.

WON IN HASSLE

When Gov. Lawrence was elected four years ago, Boehm—who had been appointed by Gov. Leader in May, 1956—did not follow the normal routine of a department head and tender his resignation to the incoming governor.

Lawrence did not get around to making up his mind about Boehm's future for more than a year. In 1960, when the end of the superintendent's term was approaching, Lawrence decided to reappoint him. After a hassle through the

Granddaughter Of Gen. Meade Dies

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Funeral services will be held Wednesday for Mrs. M. Stevenson Easby, granddaughter of Gen. George Gordon Meade, commander of Union forces at the Battle of Gettysburg.

Mrs. Easby, 82, died Sunday. A member of the Colonial Dames of America, she had been active in the restoration of historic homes in Fairmount Park. Her husband, one son and a brother survive.

Nittany Lions Are Tops In East Again

NEW YORK (AP)—For the second straight week Penn State's Nittany Lions are the unanimous choice as top major eastern college football team.

The Lions, who have lost only to army in nine games, received all eight votes Monday of coaches, sports writers and sportscasters who form the 27th annual Lambert Trophy Committee.

Army dropped from second to fourth place. The Cadets lost to Pittsburgh Saturday 7-6. Dartmouth, only major undefeated in the east, was second this week. Syracuse placed third.

summer, the Senate confirmed Boehm on Sept. 12.

FIRES AND FIRES

Boehm was under fire for alleged misadministration, but a Senate investigation directed by the Republicans failed to substantiate it.

Criticism persists around the Capitol, however, about his administration abilities. On the other hand, Boehm has made a reputation as an innovator, particularly in the field of curriculum improvement.

He considers this program a long-range one that remains unfinished. Furthermore, he sounds as if he would like to stay around to carry it on. Theoretically, he has the power to hire and fire his employees, who now number 681, including 171 on civil service.

As a practical matter, the administration controls the purse strings. It could draw these strings so tight Boehm might have to surrender.

Taneytown

TANEYTOWN — The annual banquet of the Chamber of Commerce was held Thursday evening in the high school auditorium with 216 persons attending. The meal was served by the PTA, and dinner music was provided by Delmar Riffle, organist.

Guest speaker was A. M. Mason Bell, sales promotion manager of the Baltimore Zone of the Chevrolet Motor Co. He discussed "The Impact of Sales Promotion on Industrial Growth," and said that "$5 million dollars are spent every hour of the day to change things through research."

"We accept change because it is inevitable but we must always analyze and consider any change carefully before making it. We should always beware of get-rich schemes." As an example of the importance of analyzing and considering changes before we make them, when the electric light was invented, Mr. Bell noted, dozens of candle makers went out of business. Today, 2,750,000 candles are sold every day for one purpose or another. "So you see, electric lights did not eliminate the candle business. TV did not hurt radio. So, guard against making the wrong changes," he said.

He advised members of the Chamber of Commerce to study their community needs and potential then make the necessary changes demanded by progress. Bell was introduced to Merwyn C. Fuss, following the presentation of these officers: Merle S. Ohler, president; Frank T. Dunham, first vice president; J. Al-

Ask More Caution By Penna. Drivers

HARRISBURG (AP) — State Traffic Safety Commissioner O. D. Shipley called on Pennsylvania motorists today to exercise more caution at intersections marked with "yield right of way" signs.

"Too many drivers move past a yield sign without slowing down to check approaching through traffic," Shipley declared in a statement.

"This practice," he added, "often creates an extremely hazardous situation because it forces drivers on the through highway to slam on their brakes or swerve sharply to avoid a collision."

Shipley noted that under law yield signs require all drivers to hesitate and, if necessary, stop to avoid collision or interference with vehicles on a through highway.

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — Al Hershey and Tony McLaughlin scored two goals apiece Monday as Elizabethtown College won its second Middle Atlantic Conference soccer championship in four years by defeating Franklin Marshall 4-1. TAKE A LOOK AT THE BEST-LIKED CADILLAC OF ALL TIME!

There's no question about it—America has fallen in love with this one.

It's the Cadillac car of 1963—and it is already attracting more attention—and more owners—than any other motor car in Cadillac history. And to be perfectly honest with you, we aren't a bit surprised.

You see, good news about cars travels fast. And the news about Cadillac has never been better... nor its owners more vocal.

Give a new Cadillac owner half a minute and he'll tell you how much he likes the new Cadillac look. Clean. Majestic. Substantial. Elegant.

Give him a full minute and he'll talk about the car's new luxury and comfort—and about the incredible range of models, colors and interior appointments.

Show just a little more interest and he'll have you in the driver's seat and out on the highway—recreating the roll call of Cadillac's engineering feats. A smoother, quieter engine. A new true center drive line. A triple braking system.

We're glad our owners are demonstrative. And even if you subtract the usual new car fervor—you'll find that what's left over is reason enough to visit your dealer without delay.

If you see him fast—maybe you can be the first in your neighborhood with a 1963 Cadillac.

An early move, you know, gives you a full year at the wheel.

CONFIDANT OF HOFFA TO BE TRIED IN FEB.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Raymond Cohen, a confidant of Teamsters' boss James R. Hoffa and a trustee of the union, has been scheduled for trial in February along with five other men on charges of conspiracy to defraud the treasury of Local 107.

Cohen, secretary-treasurer of Local 107, and the other men pleaded not guilty at their arraignment Monday before Joseph Scenlon, criminal courts trial commissioner.

The defendants were indicted in September, 1959, on charges that grew out of investigation by the Senate Rackets Committee which has denounced Cohen. The indictment did not list any sum of money.

ASKS NEW ELECTION

Only Monday, Cohen's leadership survived an effort by an insurgent faction, known as The Voice of the Teamsters, to quit the Teamsters and rejoin the AFL-CIO. A National Labor Relations Board election involving truckers from Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland, resulted in a 3,870 vote for the Teamsters compared to 3,274 for The Voice.

James F. Doherty, lawyer for The Voice, said he would petition the NLRB to order a new election on grounds of what he said was pre-election violence and "employer cooperation with the Teamsters."

In addition to Cohen, the others who pleaded not guilty Monday were: Benjamin Lapensohn, former public relations man for Local 107; Edward F. Walker, recording secretary of the local; Joseph E. Hartsough, Cohen's bookkeeper; Abraham D. Berman, a business agent; and John J. Elco, a member of the local.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies open their home season Tuesday night, April 9, against the Cincinnati Reds and close with a single game against the Los Angeles Dodgers Sunday, Sept. 15, General Manager John Quinn announced Monday. The schedule, Quinn said, will include 47 night games.

Blame Followers Of Castro For Bomb

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A bomb exploded in front of the home of Cuban Revolutionary Council President Jose Miro Cardona today, destroying his automobile.

The blast occurred an hour after the exile leader had returned from Washington where he conferred with U.S. officials and Latin-American diplomats on the Cuban situation.

"The bomb must have been placed by followers of Fidel Castro," said an aide of Miro Cardona.

BOMB SCARE HITS SCHOOL

LOCK HAVEN, Pa. (AP) — Classes at Lock Haven High School were delayed for an hour and a half Monday while police and demolition experts investigated a reported bomb scare.

However, nothing was found and school resumed at 9:35 a.m. Dr. Wayne Hoy, city superintendent of schools, said the scare was probably "the work of a prankster who had seen it done on television."

The scare was first reported at 7:10 a.m.—just 50 minutes before school usually opened. It came in an anonymous telephone call to Guy Basinger, police clerk at city police headquarters.

The caller said a bomb had been planted "somewhere" in the three-story school building.

Students arriving at the school were kept outside, then later herded into the school gymnasium in another building because of cold weather. Hoy estimated that at least 900 boys and girls were in the gym.

The school has a student population of about 2,000. Police searched the school, room by room, for about two hours, but could find no indication of a bomb.

NEW YORK (AP)—Three Pennsylvania football players—two line men and a fullback—held positions today on the weekly all-East ECAC team. The team, announced Monday, had Penn's Tom Elgar at fullback, Pittsburgh's Jim Irwin at guard and Charlie Johnson of Villanova at tackle.

DR. BOEHM IS SILENT ABOUT ROAD AHEAD

By FRED WALTERS

HARRISBURG (AP) — State school superintendent Charles H. Boehm is maintaining silence on his plans in the face of a change-over in the state administration. One of the most popular guessing games around Capitol Hill these days is the 59-year-old superintendent's plans.

If he chooses, he can stay in his job as $20,000 a year chief school administrator until Sept. 12, 1964, when his four-year term expires.

HAS TENURE

The superintendent of public instruction alone among the appointed department heads has tenure guaranteed by the state Constitution.

If Gov. Elect Scranton doesn't want him, and Boehm doesn't want to leave, it would mean nearly two years of strained relations between the governor and the head of the biggest department—moneywise—in state government.

Scranton's thinking on this question has not been revealed publicly.

IS REPUBLICAN

He has made no contact with Boehm, who is a registered Republican, serving his second Democratic administration.

The superintendent says "I don't know" in answer to questions as to what he would do if Scranton asks for his resignation.

But in an interview about his plans, Boehm talked about the future, about things that need to be done. In short, he talked like a man who intends to stay put.

WON IN HASSLE

When Gov. Lawrence was elected four years ago, Boehm—who had been appointed by Gov. Leader in May, 1956—did not follow the normal routine of a department head and tender his resignation to the incoming governor.

Lawrence did not get around to making up his mind about Boehm's future for more than a year. In 1960, when the end of the superintendent's term was approaching, Lawrence decided to reappoint him. After a hassle through the

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Funeral services will be held Wednesday for Mrs. M. Stevenson Easby, granddaughter of Gen. George Gordon Meade, commander of Union forces at the Battle of Gettysburg.

Mrs. Easby, 82, died Sunday. A member of the Colonial Dames of America, she had been active in the restoration of historic homes in Fairmount Park. Her husband, one son and a brother survive.

Nittany Lions Are Tops In East Again

NEW YORK (AP)—For the second straight week Penn State's Nittany Lions are the unanimous choice as top major eastern college football team.

The Lions, who have lost only to army in nine games, received all eight votes Monday of coaches, sports writers and sportscasters who form the 27th annual Lambert Trophy Committee.

Army dropped from second to fourth place. The Cadets lost to Pittsburgh Saturday 7-6. Dartmouth, only major undefeated in the east, was second this week. Syracuse placed third.

summer, the Senate confirmed Boehm on Sept. 12.

HIRES AND FIRES

Boehm was under fire for alleged misadministration, but a Senate investigation directed by the Republicans failed to substantiate it.

Criticism persists around the Capitol, however, about his administration abilities.

On the other hand, Boehm has made a reputation as an innovator, particularly in the field of curriculum improvement.

He considers this program a long-range one that remains unfinished. Furthermore, he sounds as if he would like to stay around to carry it on.

Theoretically, he has the power to hire and fire his employees, who now number 681, including 171 on civil service.

As a practical matter, the administration controls the purse strings. It could draw these strings so tight Boehm might have to surrender.

Fire Destroys Industrial Area

Taneytown

TANEYTOWN — The annual banquet of the Chamber of Commerce was held Thursday evening in the high school auditorium with 216 persons attending. The meal was served by the PTA, and dinner music was provided by Delmar Riffle, organist.

Guest speaker was A. M. Mason Bell, sales promotion manager of the Baltimore Zone of the Chevrolet Motor Co. He discussed "The Impact of Sales Promotion on Industrial Growth," and said that "$5 million dollars are spent every hour of the day to change things through research."

"We accept change because it is inevitable but we must always analyze and consider any change carefully before making it. We should always beware of get-rich schemes." As an example of the importance of analyzing and considering changes before we make them, when the electric light was invented, Mr. Bell noted, dozens of candle makers went out of business. Today, 2,750,000 candles are sold every day for one purpose or another. "So you see, electric lights did not eliminate the candle business. TV did not hurt radio. So, guard against making the wrong changes," he said.

He advised members of the Chamber of Commerce to study their community needs and potential then make the necessary changes demanded by progress. Bell was introduced to Merwyn C. Fuss, following the presentation of these officers: Merle S. Ohler, president; Frank T. Dunham, first vice president; J. Al

Ask More Caution By Penna. Drivers

HARRISBURG (AP) — State Traffic Safety Commissioner O. D. Shipley called on Pennsylvania motorists today to exercise more caution at intersections marked with "yield right of way" signs.

"Too many drivers move past a yield sign without slowing down to check approaching through traffic," Shipley declared in a statement.

"This practice," he added, "often creates an extremely hazardous situation because it forces drivers on the through highway to slam on their brakes or swerve sharply to avoid a collision."

Shipley noted that under law yield signs require all drivers to hesitate and, if necessary, stop to avoid collision or interference with vehicles on a through highway.

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — Al Hershey and Tony McGlaughlin scored two goals apiece Monday as Elizabethtown College won its second Middle Atlantic Conference soccer championship in four years by defeating Franklin Marshall 4-1. F. M.'s Paul Adogli scored on a penalty kick in the waning minutes to save the MAC southern division champions from a shutout.

REPRIEVE FOR MR. MAGOO IS "TEMPORARY"

WASHINGTON (AP)—The federal government has temporarily lifted the deportation order hanging over Mr. Magoo, the bachelor mongoose.

But the law is the law. Barring any further appeal to a higher executive or judicial level, Mr. Magoo must some day give up his happy home in the zoo at Duluth, Minn., and be packed off to his native India.

For a furry little mongoose who wasn't widely known up to a few days ago, Mr. Magoo has done quite well by the government. His case has reached Cabinet level.

DECREE BY UDALL
Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall decreed late Monday that Mr. Magoo could stay at the zoo—but only as long as he remains a star attraction. Then it's off to India with him.

"The legal background for this commutation is quite lengthy," Udall said. "But it goes to the point that the law's intent was to prevent a population explosion among mongooses."

"This threat is obviously not an issue in the Duluth case, as was pointed out in one informal staff opinion which read: 'There can be no threat of an excess of the mongoose being loosed in Duluth as long as Magoo is not two.'"

Mr. Magoo was brought into the United States by a merchant seaman. As mongooses go, he wasn't anything special.

PRETTY BIG STUFF
Then last week the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service lowered the boom. It pointed sternly to provisions of a 1900 law prohibiting the importation of mongooses. It looked like goodbye for Magoo.

But all of a sudden he was pretty big stuff in local animal circles.

People bundled themselves up and went off through the cold streets of Duluth to visit the troubled mongoose. Thousands dropped by on Sunday.

While all this was happening in Duluth, Udall's office was getting all kinds of appeals in Magoo's behalf.

Monday the secretary of the interior met the crisis head-on and firmly ruled that Mr. Magoo could stay for the time being.

CATTON URGES

both plans were dropped. However, Catton said, "Lincoln clung to the hope that some financial plan could rid the nation of this horrible war."

SOLDIERS SAW REASON
The soldiers in the field were the first to see that the Civil War was being fought about slavery, he said.

And while officials in Washington declared that the conflict was concerned only with secession of the confederate states from the union, slavery was the heart of the disagreement.

The Emancipation Proclamation was written months before it was publicly announced. It had been read to Congress early in 1862 by Lincoln, but its release hinged on an important Union victory. Even an editorial by Horace Greeley failed to bring the proclamation from Lincoln's drawer.

"He refused to answer Greeley's 'Prayer of 20 Million' in a letter to the editor," Catton said.

ISSUED AFTER ANTIETAM
The document was published following the battle of Antietam and called for the emancipation of slaves in the border states outside the confederacy by January 1.

"The proclamation often is interpreted erroneously as a weak and indecisive document," Catton said. "It was a strong document, and defined our purpose as a nation," he added. "It was

McSHERRYSTOWN — Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wagaman, 220 Main Street, McSherrystown, were guests of honor at a dinner and reception Sunday on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Leo Murren, 209 Main St., had a dinner with the following guests, Louis Wagaman and Mrs. Louise Miller, New Oxford, who was the Wagamans' bridesmaid at their wedding 50 years ago.

Following the dinner a surprise reception was given in their honor by their daughter, Mrs. Robert Ackerman, York. The reception which was from 2 to 4 in the afternoon was attended by a very large gathering of friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Wagaman received many gifts and congratulations from friends.

Americans on the south bank urgently consider evacuation. There are about 100 Americans known to be living in Assam, mostly Baptist missionaries.

About 1,500 British tea planters and their families in Assam are considering evacuation.

LOSE 3 OUTPOSTS
The populous plains of Assam, which produce much of India's tea, rice and oil, were also threatened by a second Chinese drive bursting southward across India's northeast frontier district.

This column moved toward Assam down the Lohit River valley, near the Burma border, 300 miles to the east of Bomdila.

Nehru announced that in the Ladakh theater, 800 miles to the west, the Chinese have captured three more outposts guarding the vital Indian airfield at Chushul.

He said the airfield, last main Indian base in the mountain passes of Ladakh, "remains firmly in our hands."

As bad news continued to pour in from the Himalayan battlefronts, informed sources said the Indian government may ask the United States and Britain for fighter planes.

Nehru sent an urgent personal plea Monday to President Kennedy for helicopters and transport planes. The Indian government is also reported to be in close contact with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

In a radio speech to the nation, Nehru called the fighting "a matter of survival for us" and said India was grateful "for the speedy help that came to us from friendly countries abroad, more especially from the United States and the United Kingdom."

concerned with freedom," he continued, and in his Gettysburg Address Lincoln made freedom a permanent issue.

The fight for freedom was not ended with the winning of the Civil War and the reunion of American states, he declared. "It was started here a century ago."

He sharply criticized the "Better Red Than Dead" expression that has been advanced by some modern strategists in the fight against enslavement by quoting a Negro spiritual that typified the spirit and emotions Negroes faced with freedom.

"Before I'd be a slave, I'd be buried in my grave, And go home to my Lord and be freed."

Stormy weather hit areas in the Northwest and rain and cloudy skies were reported in most of the eastern half of the nation today.

HURRICANE WINDS
Wind gusts up to 97 m.p.h. were clocked officially at Livingston, Mont., north of Yellowstone Park. Gusts up to 125 m.p.h. were recorded unofficially at Mt. Baldy, north of Cut Bank, Mont. The power-packed winds stirred up a dust storm across Montana from East Glacier to Glasgow. Telephone service was disrupted in several communities.

Rain dampened areas from the Southern Plains through Tennessee into the Middle Atlantic States. Snow mixed with rain fell in mountain area of Virginia. Light snow was reported in Lower Michigan.

The strong winds in the Northwest fanned warmer air over the region. The 61 reading in Sheridan, Wyo., compared to 20 degrees at midnight Sunday.

SCHOOL ADMITS NEGRO DENIED PROPER ENTRY

By ROBERT P. MCHUGH
ANDERSON, S. C. (AP)—Lawyers for a Negro seeking entry to all-white Clemson College have drawn an admission that a card relating to his application was put away in a vault instead of handled normally.

The college contends that Harvey Gantt, 19, was denied admission because his application was not in proper order.

REGISTRAR TESTIFIES
In U.S. District Court, however, Kenneth Vickery, director of admissions and Clemson registrar, testified Monday that a card relating to the application was put in the vault "because of the prospect of litigation."

The registrar's testimony came shortly after Judge C. C. Wyche told the court that the suit by the Charleston, S.C., youth is not a "class action."

NEW CENTER

"I welcome you to the Gettysburg National Military Park. Ninety-nine years ago President Lincoln dedicated the National Cemetery wherein were buried the brave men who died on this great battlefield. Today we gather to dedicate this exceptional building to the interpretation — for future generations — of the meaning of that battle in which those men gave their lives."

In introducing Lt. Gov. John Morgan Davis who brought greetings from Governor Lawrence and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Lee said:

3 GREAT DOCUMENTS

"Pennsylvanians point with pride to the fact that three great documents of our history had their birth in this state, the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution of the United States and the Gettysburg National Cemetery in which he restated the essence of the principles of this nation. Pennsylvanians are proud of their fight for these principles, and we are very proud to have with us this afternoon one of the foremost defenders of these principles, the lieutenant governor of that state."

Lt. Gov. Davis' brief remarks were published in Monday's edition of The Times.

WELCOMED BY MYERS

James B. Myers, superintendent of the park, addressing the more than 300 in attendance, said, "I welcome you with my sincerest warmth. This center was opened March 1. On July 1 many governors were here for a special tour and since then we have had a great many visitors which assures me that come December 30, this center will have been the heaviest visited National Park center."

Chester S. Shriver, president of the Lincoln Fellowship of Pennsylvania, spoke in part as follows: "On this day 24 years ago, the Lincoln Fellowship of Pennsylvania became a reality following much effort on the part of those who were interested in the preservation of the ideals of the great Emancipator, Abraham Lincoln, who delivered those immortal words 99 years ago today."

START FELLOWSHIP

"The original idea was expanded by Dr. Warren, of Fort Wayne, Ind., in hope that Lincoln Fellowships would be organized in the many states that had much interest in Lincoln. This idea did not spread too rapidly, but he did challenge several of those Americans who were interested in this patriotic endeavor."

"However, following the efforts of several in this locality, the Lincoln Fellowship of Pennsylvania held its first meeting on November 19, 1938, with appropriate services originating near the spot where President Lincoln delivered his address."

"During the past 24 years, the fellowship adopted the following purposes:—
"To observe as Americans each anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln: To fittingly commemorate the anniversary of the Dedication of the Soldiers National Cemetery and the Gettysburg Address he delivered there: To preserve and make more readily accessible the landmarks associated with his life or ancestry within Pennsylvania: And actively to encourage the youth of our country and commonwealth to embrace his ideals."

GOODLING SPEAKS
Congressman Goodling was introduced as "a long-time friend of this Park, and one who has participated in many activities here."

Congressman Goodling said: "President Lincoln reached Gettysburg late in the afternoon of November 18. The President brought with him at least part of his forthcoming address. Written, I might add, in Washington, D. C., and not, as was once popularly supposed, on a jolting, lurching train."

"At the home of Judge Wills, where he was a guest, the President worked further on his address, either that night or the following morning, or perhaps at both times."

"The ceremonies on the 19th were impressive, solemn, and all that the crowd of thousands expected. There was appropriate music, the recital of a dirge written for the occasion by Benjamin B. French, the U.S. commissioner of public buildings; and a magnificent oration by Edward Everett. For two hours, in his graceful, polished phrases which had gained him his standing as the nation's greatest orator, Everett expounded on the battle and its place in history."

truly, as Major French wrote in his journal, 'the idol of the American people at this moment.' There is evidence for and against each of these questions.

"Against these mysteries, trivial as they are, stands one majestic fact — the words which Mr. Lincoln spoke. Whether he read with or without a manuscript, with his spectacles on, or held in his hand, whether his audience applauded or remained silent, a grateful posterity has taken what he said as the creed for all who love liberty. Freedom and sacrifice — then as now — are inseparable."

Mayor William G. Weaver; Dr. C. A. Hanson, president of Gettysburg College; General Willard S. Paul, former president of the college; Dr. Abdel Ross Wentz, onetime president of the Lutheran Seminary; Paul L. Roy, editor of The Gettysburg Times; Col. Scott A. Trexler, Allentown, representing the Gettysburg Battlefield Preservation Association; Colonel Dalrymple and Nelson, of the War College at Carlisle; three members of the Pennsylvania Commission arranging the observances of the 100th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg and Lincoln's Gettysburg Address: Henry M. Scharf, Lt. Gen. Edward J. Stackpole, and Atty. Donald M. Swope.

James I. Robertson, chairman of the National Civil War Commission; Frank Masland, Carlisle, chairman of the National Park Advisory Board; Richard Neutra, architect, who said that he represented his partners. He then introduced Mr. Longstreth who he said assisted in designing the building. He also introduced a number of others who cooperated in the effort to have the Center erected.

GIVES INVOCATION

The following invocation was delivered by Rev. Dr. Paul L. Reaser, pastor of St. James Lutheran Church:
"Eternal God, in Whom men and nations live and move and have their being;
"Great is Thy name, and ever to be worshipped above man or anything fashioned by men's hands."

"Look upon us as today we gather on this soil made sacred by patriot blood, shed in the cause of freedom and justice."

"Lord of love and mercy, forgive and cleanse the passions that push men into strife and warfare; forgive the hardened hearts that blind their vision of the path to peace and reconciliation."

"As we dedicate this Center for the use of Thy children, we are grateful that we may do so in the spirit of peace not of strife, the spirit of comradeship not of enmity, the spirit of unity not of disruption, the spirit of mutual love and cooperation."

"Grant, O God, that those who visit here in the years to come may experience a renewal of thanksgiving for true national heritage, a renewal of faith in their fellow countrymen, a renewal of confidence in the future, with a calm assurance that the future is as bright as the promises of God."

DELIVERS BENEDICTION

Rev. Robert A. MacAskill, pastor of the Presbyterian Church where President Lincoln attended worship services the afternoon of November 18, 1863, gave the following benediction:
"Almighty God, Sovereign ruler of men and nations, we thank Thee for this occasion and for this edifice dedicated to interpret to our time, and generations yet unborn, the sacrifice, suffering, and significance of the event that took place here in the unfolding of our national life. As we bring this to our remembrance, may we rededicate ourselves to 'the unfinished work' that 'government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth.'"

"In this quest, may our singular motive and purpose be to do Thy will, experience Thy love, and be sustained by Thy grace that our spirits may be nourished to produce the fruits of compassion, understanding, forgiveness, vision, faith, courage, peace, as sons of God in this nation and the world — to the end that 'Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done, on earth as it is in heaven,' through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen."

BUFFET TEA

Following the program there was a special presentation of the Philadelphia painting with narration and musical accompaniment.

POLAND SEES RED SPLIT AS UNBRIDGEABLE

By GENE KRAMER

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—Some Warsaw quarters for the first time are describing the Moscow-Peking split as unbridgeable.

Cautious experts on Communist affairs continue to warn that the Soviet Union and Communist China still have more in common than divides them. But these voices are softer in the wake of recent developments over Cuba and India.

One diplomat says flatly the recent purge of Stalinists in Bulgaria and the apparent downgrading of the Berlin question are frantic Soviet efforts to shore up Moscow's flanks for a full-dress showdown with Mao Tse-tung.

BRIDGE IS "GONE"

"The bridge has washed away," another diplomat commented. He was referring to the traditional role of Poland as a bridge, or mediator, in Moscow-Peking disputes.

Supporting this view is the possibility that veteran Chinese Communist Ambassador Wang Pingnan may quit the Warsaw post he has held for seven years.

Wang is now in Peking. A well informed diplomat said Monday he has been told if Wang returns to Warsaw, it will be to make his farewell calls.

RECALLS AMBASSADORS

This report touched off speculation on the future of the periodic ambassadorial meetings between Red China and the United States, held in Warsaw since 1958.

Wang, the dean of Chinese Communist diplomats in Eastern Europe as well as of the Warsaw diplomatic corps, went home in mid-October for what was then described as a temporary absence. Subsequently, Chinese Red ambassadors were called home from other Soviet bloc capitals.

No rupture of diplomatic relations between Communist China and the Soviet bloc is expected at this stage. But the replacement of Wang by a junior diplomat would be evidence that Peking no longer attaches value to Warsaw as a point for mediation with the Communist world—or with the United States.

OTHERS EVIDENCE

Wang's absence has already caused postponement of one meeting with U.S. Ambassador John M. Cabot—from Oct. 25 to Dec. 13.

Other evidence of the Soviet bloc-Chinese split was provided last weekend by the granting of substantial Polish industrial credits to India at a time when that country is in a shooting war with Communist China.

Those who witnessed the cordial signing of the eight-year, $32.3-million agreement between Poland and India wondered if Moscow hadn't nudged the Poles.

144 Dead Or Missing In Series Of Sea Disasters

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A casualty roll of world sea disasters edged upward today, with 144 persons listed as dead or missing in a series of mishaps that started last week. Trouble in the Atlantic and the Pacific, the North Sea and the Mediterranean ran shipping losses into millions of dollars.

Nearly 100 seafarers were rescued from vessels sunk, battered or disabled by howling weekend storms. High waves pounded the coasts of Puerto Rico and Cuba, causing death, injury, and property damage.

The entire 36-man crew of the Japanese gasoline tanker Munkata Maru was presumed killed in a blazing inferno following a collision Sunday with another tanker in a narrow fog-shrouded channel of Tokyo Bay.

RECOVER 32 BODIES

Thirty-two bodies had been recovered. The fire was believed touched off by a barge's funnel sparks dropping on high-octane gasoline leaking from the damaged 1,972-ton Munkata Maru. She carried 950,000 gallons of gasoline.

Three crewmen on two barges caught in the flames also were lost.

The 47 persons aboard the 21,634-ton Norwegian tanker Tharald Brovig, the other ship in the collision, were rescued. Ten suffered minor injuries.

The ships crashed and locked 200 yards from shore in Kawasaki Canal 12 miles from Tokyo.

Elsewhere at sea:

11 ARE MISSING

The 11 crewmen of the fishing scalloper Midnight Sun, out of New Bedford, Mass., were unaccounted for after a storm at sea Wednesday. The vessel failed to return to port when due Saturday.

Twelve Spanish fishermen were presumed drowned in a storm off the Spain's north coast Sunday.

Their last radioed report said their boat was leading.

Japan's Maritime Safety Agency reported 20 Japanese fishing boats with 26 crewmen were missing between their home ports and Okinawa. It said they were believed to have run into typhoon Karen, which skirted the Ryukyu Islands last weekend.

Five British rescuers and four fishermen perished under a huge wave that capsized their lifeboat Saturday at the harbor entrance to Seaham, Britain. A fifth fisherman was saved. The rescue crew had taken the fishermen off their battered boat.

A search continued Monday off the Bermuda and North Carolina coasts for five crewmen missing with their 35-foot sailing schooner, the Windfall, since Thursday in a race with another ill-fated schooner from Mystic, Conn., to the Virgin Islands. The other schooner, the Curlew, foundered off Bermuda. Its crew was rescued.

Another search off Bermuda was abandoned for 15 seamen from the Greek freighter Captain George, wrecked by an explosion Wednesday. The 25-man crew, unable to contain a fire aboard the explosive-laden ship, took to lifeboats Thursday. Seven were rescued. Three bodies were recovered. Five of the survivors were landed in Philadelphia.

Sixteen of 18 persons from a capsized motorboat were reported missing today by Philippine authorities. The boat overturned Wednesday in the Sulu Archipelago. Fishermen reportedly rescued two persons.

CASTRO FINDS OLD TUNNEL

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Subterranean passages dug beneath Havana by the Spaniards in Colonial days have been put in order by the Fidel Castro regime for use in case of an invasion, the Cuban Revolutionary Council said today.

The council detailed a vast underground network and suggested it could be used by the Castro regime as an escape hatch as well as for defense against an enemy.

The report was released by Manuel Antonio de Varona, council public relations executive.

The report said one underground passage has been extended to Castro's presumed residence. It connects with the sea, the report said.

The council, major anti-Castro organization which mounted the unsuccessful Bay of Pigs invasion of Cuba, said also that a network of secret airports and hangars had been constructed throughout Cuba.

At some of the hidden or camouflaged airports, the council added, there are detection devices designed to spy electronically on missile launchings at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

Also included in the network, the council asserted, are missile bases undetected by American U2 planes.

NO 'WHITE PAYROLL'

HARRISBURG (AP)—The state has 6,234 non-whites on its payroll as of Sept. 15, the Pennsylvania human relations commission reported Monday.

The commission announced the results of the survey as the first step in a program to determine each year whether the state is practicing the principle of equal job opportunity that is now the law of the commonwealth.

The survey showed 81,290 state employees as of Sept. 15. Of the 6,234 non-whites, 150 were earning salaries of $7,000 or more as supervisors, technical and professional employees.

S. VIET NAM NATIVES ARE KEY TO WAR

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Americans in South Viet Nam are learning some lessons their forefathers knew by heart when the Indian and white man clashed for control of the North American continent.

Dotting the remote, jungle-covered highlands of central Viet Nam are hundreds of small forts and outposts, where Vietnamese troops and their American advisors base operations.

These operations are not intended to kill. They are to make friends and influence people.

LANGUAGE BARRIERS

Outside the posts are dark-skinned tribesmen, who dress in brilliant, hand-woven fabrics or loin clothes. They are silent, simple people, who hunt with spears and cross bows. Their arrows sometimes are tipped with deadly strychnine-based poisons extracted from native plants.

Some are fighting on the side of the Saigon forces. Some are fighting for the Vietnamese Communist rebels. Most are content to be left alone by all outsiders.

There are 700,000 of these highland mountaineers, divided into about 34 main tribal groups and dozens of sub-groups. Few of the tribes speak common languages. Only a minority speaks Vietnamese, the national language.

NEED THEIR HELP

Yet they are the dominant inhabitants of a sparsely populated area making up about two-thirds of South Viet Nam's land area.

As such, they are key elements in the deadly war between the Viet Cong and the government, whether they like it or not.

The problem for the government is to win their allegiance and persuade them to help strangle the Communist enemy working among them.

For many years, outsiders—including the Vietnamese—have had little contact with the Montagnards, as they are called. Any contact was rarely cordial. Merchants from the lowlands selling the Montagnards cheap trinkets and beads often left cheated and embittered tribesmen behind.

GOING SLOWLY

Saigon forces and U.S. advisors with them are cutting into Viet Cong influence, but the work goes slowly.

The Viet Cong, realizing years ago the importance of Montagnard support in their highland campaign, has been working hard among the tribes, sometimes marrying into them to strengthen ties.

Americans and Vietnamese are learning side by side how to avoid violating important taboos. One does not enter certain parts of houses, and one does not cut wood in certain places. The spirits inhabiting certain streams must not be offended by dumping refuse into the water.

LINCOLN GROUP HONORS HANSON

Members of the Lincoln Fellowship of Pennsylvania paid special tribute Tuesday to the late Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, first president of the Fellowship, during the business session which followed the annual luncheon in the Hotel Gettysburg. A copy of the tribute, which was presented by Dr. Frederick Tilberg, also a past president of the organization, was presented to Atty. Henry W. A. Hanson, a son, Harrisburg, for the family. The Fellowship was organized in 1938 following the observance of the 75th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg.

Members unanimously re-elected officers and directors. They are Chester S. Shriver, president; James B. Myers, vice president; Mrs. Bess Kapp, secretary-treasurer; Dr. H. M. J. Klein, William G. Weaver, Miles H. Keiffer, Frederic S. Klein, Dr. Frederick Tilberg, Henry E. Luhrs, Walter B. Lane and Leroy C. Smith, directors.

DEDICATION

Gettysburg Senior High School band, Blaine R. Kitzmiller, a son of a Civil War Union veteran, placed a wreath on the Soldiers' Monument for the SUV. Dr. Frederick Tilberg, a past president, placed the wreath for the Lincoln Fellowship.

Raymond W. Bellamy, for 18 years sergeant-at-arms of the Congress and a Lincoln scholar, read Lincoln's Gettysburg Address. He prefaced the reading by noting that as a high school student he had delivered the address from the same spot 55 years ago.

MUSIC BY BAND

He described the scene at Gettysburg on November 19, 1863, during the service which included the "brief remarks" by Lincoln.

Rev. John W. Vannorsdall, chaplain at Gettysburg College and Rev. Harold Westover, local Episcopal rector, gave the invocation and benediction. The high school band played several selections.

A parade from Lincoln Square by the band, a unit of the Gettysburg College ROTC and cars bearing the speaker and party preceded the cemetery exercises.

Castro insisted that the bombers had been sent to Cuba "for the defense of our country against aggression." As he did earlier with the Soviet missiles already withdrawn from Cuba, he described the planes as "property of the Soviet government."

DEFENDS RIGHT TO FIGHT

Referring to violations of Cuban air space, Castro "reiterated that Cuba has the indisputable right to defend its territory against such violations. As far as our anti-aircraft weapons can reach, every war plane which invades Cuban air space will do so at the risk of being destroyed."

He complained the United States had declared "that American military planes will continue to violate Cuban air space. These aggressive acts are in flagrant contradiction to international law and to the United Nations charter."

Castro's offer came after midnight, and State Department press officer Lincoln White said he knew nothing about it. However, officials of the Kennedy administration had shown optimism in recent days that some arrangement for withdrawal of the bombers would be worked out before President Kennedy's news conference tonight, his first in 10 weeks.

Authoritative sources reported last Thursday that Khrushchev had offered to withdraw the bombers but had attached so many conditions his proposal was unacceptable to Washington.

It has good highways and good farms and a good Agricultural Extension Service from Pennsylvania State University to help the farmers meet competition from agriculture from all parts of the nation," he said. He added that one person in every 10 in this state is employed in a field linked with agriculture.

Mr. Horst was introduced by Clarence J. Waybright, one of this county's "master farmers" and a member of the Lions Club. Guests included Paul Waybright, Russell Weaver, Francis Weikert, Thomas O. Oyler, County Agent Frank S. Zettle, Thomas Piper, Raymond Scott and Glenn Miller.

Announcement was made of two payments from the club's charity fund. One was for $25 to the county tuberculosis society and the other was to Muscular Dystrophy for $15. Kenneth G. Reinhart Jr., reported the club's ticket sales for the Pittsburgh Symphony Concert here December 3 already amount to $115.50.

A zone meeting at Cashtown Tuesday, December 4, was announced. Meetings of the club's special activities, stewards' and boys and girls' committees were held after the general club session.

President Kenneth Dengler presided with about 60 in attendance.

ment of Cuba will not be an obstacle to this decision."

Castro insisted that the bombers had been sent to Cuba "for the defense of our country against aggression." As he did earlier with the Soviet missiles already withdrawn from Cuba, he described the planes as "property of the Soviet government."

DEFENDS RIGHT TO FIGHT

Referring to violations of Cuban air space, Castro "reiterated that Cuba has the indisputable right to defend its territory against such violations. As far as our anti-aircraft weapons can reach, every war plane which invades Cuban air space will do so at the risk of being destroyed."

He complained the United States had declared "that American military planes will continue to violate Cuban air space. These aggressive acts are in flagrant contradiction to international law and to the United Nations charter."

Castro's offer came after midnight, and State Department press officer Lincoln White said he knew nothing about it. However, officials of the Kennedy administration had shown optimism in recent days that some arrangement for withdrawal of the bombers would be worked out before President Kennedy's news conference tonight, his first in 10 weeks.

Authoritative sources reported last Thursday that Khrushchev had offered to withdraw the bombers but had attached so many conditions his proposal was unacceptable to Washington.

144 Dead Or Missing In Series Of Sea Disasters

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A casualty roll of world sea disasters edged upward today, with 144 persons listed as dead or missing in a series of mishaps that started last week. Trouble in the Atlantic and the Pacific, the North Sea and the Mediterranean ran shipping losses into millions of dollars.

Nearly 100 seafarers were rescued from vessels sunk, battered or disabled by howling weekend storms. High waves pounded the coasts of Puerto Rico and Cuba, causing death, injury, and property damage.

The entire 36-man crew of the Japanese gasoline tanker Muna-kata Maru was presumed killed in a blazing inferno following a collision Sunday with another tanker in a narrow fog-shrouded channel of Tokyo Bay.

RECOVER 32 BODIES

Thirty-two bodies had been recovered.

The fire was believed touched off by a barge's funnel sparks dropping on high-octane gasoline leaking from the damaged 1,972-ton Muna-kata Maru. She carried 950,000 gallons of gasoline.

Three crewmen on two barges caught in the flames also were lost.

The 47 persons aboard the 21,634-ton Norwegian tanker Tharald Brovig, the other ship in the collision, were rescued. Ten suffered minor injuries.

The ships crashed and locked 200 yards from shore in Kawasaki Canal 12 miles from Tokyo.

11 ARE MISSING

The 11 crewmen of the fishing scalloper Midnight Sun, out of New Bedford, Mass., were unaccounted for after a storm at sea Wednesday. The vessel failed to return to port when due Saturday.

Twelve Spanish fishermen were presumed drowned in a storm off the Spain's north coast Sunday. Their last radioed report said their boat was leaking.

Japan's Maritime Safety Agency reported 20 Japanese fishing boats with 26 crewmen were missing between their home ports and Okinawa. It said they were believed to have run into typhoon Karen, which skirted the Ryukyu Islands last weekend.

Five British rescuers and four fishermen perished under a huge wave that capsized their lifeboat Saturday at the harbor entrance to Seaham, Britain. A fifth fisherman was saved. The rescue crew had taken the fishermen off their battered boat.

A search continued Monday off the Bermuda and North Carolina coasts for five crewmen missing with their 35-foot sailing schooner, the Windfall, since Thursday in a race with another ill-fated schooner from Mystic, Conn., to the Virgin Islands. The other schooner, the Curlew, foundered off Bermuda. Its crew was res-

Another search off Bermuda was abandoned for 15 seamen from the Greek freighter Captain George, rocked by an explosion Wednesday. The 25-man crew, unable to contain a fire aboard the explosive-laden ship, took to lifeboats Thursday. Seven were rescued. Three bodies were recovered. Five of the survivors were landed in Philadelphia.

Sixteen of 18 persons from a capsized motorboat were reported missing today by Philippine authorities. The boat overturned Wednesday in the Sulu Archipelago. Fishermen reportedly rescued two persons.

CASTRO FINDS OLD TUNNEL

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Subterranean passages dug beneath Havana by the Spaniards in Colonial days have been put in order by the Fidel Castro regime for use in case of an invasion, the Cuban Revolutionary Council said today.

The council detailed a vast underground network and suggested it could be used by the Castro regime as an escape hatch as well as for defense against an enemy.

The report was released by Manuel Antonio de Varona, council public relations executive.

The report said one underground passage has been extended to Castro's presumed residence. It connects with the sea, the report said.

The council, major anti-Castro organization which mounted the unsuccessful Bay of Pigs invasion of Cuba, said also that a network of secret airports and hangars had been constructed throughout Cuba.

At some of the hidden or camouflaged airports, the council added, there are detection devices designed to spy electronically on missile launches at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

Also included in the network, the council asserted, are missile bases undetected by American U2 planes.

NO 'WHITE PAYROLL'
HARRISBURG (AP)—The state has 6,234 non-whites on its payroll as of Sept. 15, the Pennsylvania human relations commission reported Monday.

The commission announced the results of the survey as the first step in a program to determine each year whether the state is practicing the principle of equal job opportunity that is now the law of the commonwealth.

The survey showed 81,290 state employees as of Sept. 15. Of the 6,234 non-whites, 150 were earning salaries of $7,000 or more as supervisors, technical and professional employees.

S. VIET NAM NATIVES ARE KEY TO WAR

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Americans in South Viet Nam are learning some lessons their forefathers knew by heart when the Indian and white man clashed for control of the North American continent.

Dotting the remote, jungle-covered highlands of central Viet Nam are hundreds of small forts and outposts, where Vietnamese troops and their American advisors base operations.

These operations are not intended to kill. They are to make friends and influence people.

LANGUAGE BARRIERS

Outside the posts are dark-skinned tribesmen, who dress in brilliant, hand-woven fabrics or loin clothes. They are silent, simple people, who hunt with spears and cross bows. Their arrows sometimes are tipped with deadly strychnine-based poisons extracted from native plants.

Some are fighting on the side of the Saigon forces. Some are fighting for the Vietnamese Communist rebels. Most are content to be left alone by all outsiders.

There are 700,000 of these highland mountaineers, divided into about 34 main tribal groups and dozens of sub-groups. Few of the tribes speak common languages. Only a minority speaks Vietnamese, the national language.

NEED THEIR HELP

Yet they are the dominant inhabitants of a sparsely populated area making up about two-thirds of South Viet Nam's land area.

As such, they are key elements in the deadly war between the Viet Cong and the government, whether they like it or not.

The problem for the government is to win their allegiance and persuade them to help strangle the Communist enemy working among them.

For many years, outsiders—including the Vietnamese—have had little contact with the Montagnards, as they are called. Any contact was rarely cordial. Merchants from the lowlands selling the Montagnards cheap trinkets and beads often left cheated and embittered tribesmen behind.

GOING SLOWLY

Saigon forces and U.S. advisors with them are cutting into Viet Cong influence, but the work goes slowly.

The Viet Cong, realizing years ago the importance of Montagnard support in their highland campaign, has been working hard among the tribes, sometimes marrying into them to strengthen ties.

Americans and Vietnamese are learning side by side how to avoid violating important taboos. One does not enter certain parts of houses, and one does not cut wood in certain places. The spirits inhabiting certain streams must not be offended by dumping refuse into the water.

DEADLY ENEMY

The bitter memories of the Indochina war still are reminders that the Montagnard can be a deadly enemy if he is not on your side.

The soft-spoken hunters played an important role supporting Viet Minh forces in North Viet Nam, especially in the closing months of the war at the battle of Dien

LINCOLN GROUP HONORS HANSON

Members of the Lincoln Fellowship of Pennsylvania paid special tribute Tuesday to the late Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, first president of the Fellowship, during the business session which followed the annual luncheon in the Hotel Gettysburg. A copy of the tribute, which was presented by Dr. Frederick Tilberg, also a past president of the organization, was presented to Atty. Henry W. A. Hanson, a son, Harrisburg, for the family. The Fellowship was organized in 1938 following the observance of the 75th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg.

Members unanimously re-elected officers and directors. They are: Chester S. Shriver, president; James B. Myers, vice president; Mrs. Bess Kapp, secretary-treasurer; Dr. H. M. J. Klein, William G. Weaver, Miles H. Keiffer, Frederic S. Klein, Dr. Frederick Tilberg, Henry E. Luhrs, Walter B. Lane and Leroy C. Smith, directors.

DEDICATION

Gettysburg Senior High School band, Blaine R. Kitzmiller, a son of a Civil War Union veteran, placed a wreath on the Soldiers' Monument for the SUV. Dr. Frederick Tilberg, a past president, placed the wreath for the Lincoln Fellowship.

Raymond W. Bellamy, for 18 years sergeant-at-arms of the Congress and a Lincoln scholar, read Lincoln's Gettysburg Address. He prefaced the reading by noting that as a high school student he had delivered the address from the same spot 55 years ago.

MUSIC BY BAND

He described the scene at Gettysburg on November 19, 1863, during the service which included the "brief remarks" by Lincoln.

Rev. John W. Vannorsdall, chaplain at Gettysburg College and Rev. Harold Westover, local Episcopal rector, gave the invocation and benediction. The high school band played several selections.

A parade from Lincoln Square by the band, a unit of the Gettysburg College ROTC and cars bearing the speaker and party preceded the cemetery exercises.

REPRIEVE FOR MR. MAGOO IS "TEMPORARY"

WASHINGTON (AP)—The federal government has temporarily lifted the deportation order hanging over Mr. Magoo, the bachelor mongoose.

But the law is the law. Barring any further appeal to a higher executive or judicial level, Mr. Magoo must some day give up his happy home in the zoo at Duluth, Minn., and be packed off to his native India.

For a furry little mongoose who wasn't widely known up to a few days ago, Mr. Magoo has done quite well by the government. His case has reached Cabinet level.

DECREE BY UDALL

Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall decreed late Monday that Mr. Magoo could stay at the zoo—but only as long as he remains a star attraction. Then it's off to India with him.

"The legal background for this commutation is quite lengthy," Udall said. "But it goes to the point that the law's intent was to prevent a population explosion among mongooses."

"This threat is obviously not an issue in the Duluth case, as was pointed out in one informal staff opinion which read: 'There can be no threat of an excess of the mongoose being loosed in Duluth as long as Magoo is not two.'"

Mr. Magoo was brought into the United States by a merchant seaman. As mongooses go, he wasn't anything special.

PRETTY BIG STUFF

Then last week the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service lowered the boom. It pointed sternly to provisions of a 1900 law prohibiting the importation of mongooses. It looked like goodbye for Magoo.

But all of a sudden he was pretty big stuff in local animal circles.

People bundled themselves up and went off through the cold streets of Duluth to visit the troubled mongoose. Thousands dropped by on Sunday.

While all this was happening in Duluth, Udall's office was getting all kinds of appeals in Magoo's behalf.

Monday the secretary of the interior met the crisis head-on and firmly ruled that Mr. Magoo could stay for the time being.

CATTON URGES

both plans were dropped. However, Catton said, "Lincoln clung to the hope that some financial plan could rid the nation of this horrible war."

SOLDIERS SAW REASON

The soldiers in the field were the first to see that the Civil War was being fought about slavery, he said.

And while officials in Washington declared that the conflict was concerned only with secession of the confederate states from the union, slavery was the heart of the disagreement.

The Emancipation Proclamation was written months before it was publicly announced. It had been read to Congress early in 1862 by Lincoln, but its release hinged on an important Union victory. Even an editorial by Horace Greeley failed to bring the proclamation from Lincoln's drawer.

"He refused to answer Greeley's 'Prayer of 20 Million' in a letter-to-the-editor!" Catton said.

ISSUED AFTER ANTIETAM

The document was published following the battle of Antietam and called for the emancipation of slaves in the border states outside the confederacy by January 1.

"The proclamation often is interpreted erroneously as a weak and indecisive document," Catton said. "It was a strong document, and defined our purpose as a nation," he added. "It was our hands."

As bad news continued to pour in from the Himalayan battlefronts, informed sources said the Indian government may ask the United States and Britain for fighter planes.

Nehru sent an urgent personal plea Monday to President Kennedy for helicopters and transport planes. The Indian government also reported to be in close contact with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

"In a radio speech to the nation, Nehru called the fighting 'a matter of survival for us' and said India was grateful 'for the speedy help that came to us from friendly countries abroad, more especially from the United States and the United Kingdom.'" concerned with freedom," he continued, and in his Gettysburg Address Lincoln made freedom a permanent issue.

The fight for freedom was not ended with the winning of the Civil War and the reunion of American states, he declared. "It was started here a century ago."

He sharply criticized the "Better - Red - Than - Dead" expression that has been advanced by some modern strategists in the fight against enslavement by quoting a negro spiritual that typified the spirit and emotions Negroes faced with freedom.

"Before I'd be a slave, I'd be buried in my grave, And go home to my Lord and be Freed."

McSHERRYSTOWN — Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wagaman, 220 Main Street, McSherrystown, were guests of honor at a dinner and reception Sunday on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Leo Murren, 209 Main St., had a dinner with the following guests, Louis Wagaman and Mrs. Louise Miller, New Oxford, who was the Wagamans' bridesmaid at their wedding 50 years ago.

Following the dinner a surprise reception was given in their honor by their daughter, Mrs. Robert Ackerman, York. The reception which was from 2 to 4 in the afternoon was attended by a very large gathering of friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Wagaman received many gifts and congratulations from friends.

Americans on the south bank urgently consider evacuation. There are about 100 Americans known to be living in Assam, mostly Baptist missionaries.

About 1,500 British tea planters and their families in Assam are considering evacuation.

LOSE 3 OUTPOSTS

The populous plains of Assam, which produce much of India's tea, rice and oil, were also threatened by a second Chinese drive bursting southward across India's northeast frontier district.

This column moved toward Assam down the Lohit River valley, near the Burma border, 300 miles to the east of Bomdila.

Nehru announced that in the Ladakh theater, 850 miles to the west, the Chinese have captured three more outposts guarding the vital Indian airfield at Chushul. He said the airfield, last main Indian base in the mountain passes of Ladakh, "remains firmly in our hands."

As bad news continued to pour in from the Himalayan battlefronts, informed sources said the Indian government may ask the United States and Britain for fighter planes.

HEAVY STORMS HIT NORTHWEST SWEEP INLAND

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Stormy weather hit areas in the Northwest and rain and cloudy skies were reported in most of the eastern half of the nation today.

Rain, driven by winds as high as hurricane force, swept inland across Washington and Oregon to Wyoming and Montana Monday. Rain and stiff winds continued during the night.

HURRICANE WINDS

Wind gusts up to 97 m.p.h. were clocked officially at Livingston, Mont., north of Yellowstone Park. Gusts up to 125 m.p.h. were recorded unofficially at Mt. Baldy, north of Cut Bank, Mont. The power-packed winds stirred up a dust storm across Montana from East Glacier to Glasgow. Telephone service was disrupted in several communities.

Rain damped areas from the Southern Plains through Tennessee into the Middle Atlantic States. Snow mixed with rain fell in mountain area of Virginia. Light snow was reported in Lower Michigan.

The strong winds in the Northwest fanned warmer air over the region. The 61 reading in Sheridan, Wyo., compared to 20 degrees at midnight Sunday.

Temperatures in the 30-40 degree range were reported in the major part of the country.

SCHOOL ADMITS NEGRO DENIED PROPER ENTRY

By ROBERT P. MCHUGH

ANDERSON, S. C. (AP)—Lawyers for a Negro seeking entry to all-white Clemson College have drawn an admission that a card relating to his application was put away in a vault instead of handled normally.

The college contends that Harvey Gantt, 39, was denied admission because his application was not in proper order.

REGISTRAR TESTIFIES

In U.S. District Court, however, Kenneth Vickery, director of admissions and Clemson registrar, testified Monday that a card relating to the application was put in the vault "because of the prospect of litigation."

The registrar's testimony came shortly after Judge C. C. Wyche told the court that the suit by the Charleston, S.C., youth is not a "class action."

If the judge's decision prevails — and Gantt's lawyers may contest it — this would mean other Negroes seeking entry to Clemson also would have to bring suit. Gantt seeks to become the first Negro to break the color barrier in the public school systems of South Carolina, the only Southern state which has kept that barrier intact. Clemson, located 20 miles west of here, has a predominantly white enrollment.

NEW CENTER

"I welcome you to the Gettysburg National Military Park. Ninety-nine years ago President Lincoln dedicated the National Cemetery wherein were buried the brave men who died on this great battlefield. Today we gather to dedicate this exceptional building to the interpretation — for future generations — of the meaning of that battle in which those men gave their lives."

In introducing Lt. Gov. John Morgan Davis who brought greetings from Governor Lawrence and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Lee said:

3 GREAT DOCUMENTS

"Pennsylvanians point with pride to the fact that three great documents of our history had their birth in this state, the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution of the United States and the address by President Abraham Lincoln at the dedication of the Gettysburg National Cemetery in which he restated the essence of the principles of this nation. Pennsylvanians are proud of their fight for these principles, and we are very proud to have with us this afternoon one of the foremost defenders of these principles, the lieutenant governor of that state."

Lt. Gov. Davis' brief remarks were published in Monday's edition of The Times.

WELCOMED BY MYERS

James B. Myers, superintendent of the park, addressing the more than 300 in attendance, said, "I welcome you with my sincerest warmth. This center was opened March 1. On July 1 many governors were here for a special tour and since then we have had a great many visitors which assures me that come December 30, this center will have been the heaviest visited National Park center."

Chester S. Shriver, president of the Lincoln Fellowship of Pennsylvania, spoke in part as follows:

"On this day 24 years ago, the Lincoln Fellowship of Pennsylvania became a reality following much effort on the part of those who were interested in the preservation of the ideals of the great Emancipator, Abraham Lincoln, who delivered those immortal words 99 years ago today."

START FELLOWSHIP

"The original idea was expanded by Dr. Warren, of Fort Wayne, Ind., in hope that Lincoln Fellowships would be organized in the many states that had much interest in Lincoln. This idea did not spread too rapidly, but he did challenge several of those Americans who were interested in this patriotic endeavor."

"However, following the efforts of several in this locality, the Lincoln Fellowship of Pennsylvania held its first meeting on November 19, 1938, with appropriate services originating near the spot where President Lincoln delivered his address."

"During the past 24 years, the fellowship adopted the following purposes:—

"To observe as Americans each anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln: To fittingly commemorate the anniversary of the Dedication of the Soldiers National Cemetery and the Gettysburg Address he delivered there. To preserve and make more readily accessible the landmarks associated with his life or ancestry within Pennsylvania: And actively to encourage the youth of our country and commonwealth to embrace his ideals."

GOODLING SPEAKS

Congressman Goodling was introduced as "a long-time friend of this Park, and one who has participated in many activities here."

Congressman Goodling said: "President Lincoln reached Gettysburg late in the afternoon of November 18. The President brought with him at least part of his forthcoming address. Written, I might add, in Washington, D. C., and not, as was once popularly supposed, on a jolting, lurching train."

"At the home of Judge Wills, where he was a guest, the President worked further on his address, either that night or the following morning, or perhaps at both times."

"The ceremonies on the 19th were impressive, solemn, and all that the crowd of thousands expected. There was appropriate music, the recital of a dirge written for the occasion by Benjamin B. French, the U.S. commissioner of public buildings; and a magnificent oration by Edward Everett. For two hours, in his graceful, polished phrases which had gained him his standing as the nation's greatest orator, Everett expounded on the battle and its place in history."

"It was fitting that Ward Hill Lamon, an old friend of Lincoln, was the chief marshal of the ceremonies and introduced the next speaker, the President of the United States."

IMMORTAL ADDRESS

"The tall man arose and, from this point on, the story is clouded by conflicting recollections, fogged over by what men, years later, remembered or thought they remembered. Did Mr. Lincoln read from his manuscript? Or did he speak with it held at his side, never glancing at it? Could the great audience hear his immortal words? Or were his remarks lost to all except the favored few in the front rows? Was the address received in disappointed silence? Or was the President, when he had finished speaking, truly, as Major French wrote in his journal, 'the idol of the American people at this moment?'

There is evidence for and against each of these questions.

"Against these mysteries, trivial as they are, stands one majestic fact — the words which Mr. Lincoln spoke. Whether he read with or without a manuscript, with his spectacles on, or held in his hand, whether his audience applauded or remained silent, a grateful posterity has taken what he said as the creed for all who love liberty. Freedom and sacrifice — then as now — are inseparable."

After several selections by the band Director Wirth spoke.

Mayor William G. Weaver; Dr. C. A. Hanson, president of Gettysburg College; General Willard S. Paul, former president of the college; Dr. Abdel Ross Wentz, onetime president of the Lutheran Seminary; Paul L. Roy, editor of The Gettysburg Times; Col. Scott A. Trexler, Allentown, representing the Gettysburg Battlefield Preservation Association; Colonels Dalrymple and Nelson, of the War College at Carlisle; three members of the Pennsylvania Commission arranging the observances of the 100th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg and Lincoln's Gettysburg Address: Henry M. Scharf, Lt. Gen. Edward J. Stackpole, and Atty. Donald M. Swope.

James I. Robertson, chairman of the National Civil War Commission; Frank Masland, Carlisle, chairman of the National Park Advisory Board; Richard Neutra, architect, who said that he represented his partners. He then introduced Mr. Longstreth who he said assisted in designing the building. He also introduced a number of others who cooperated in the effort to have the Center erected.

GIVES INVOCATION

The following invocation was delivered by Rev. Dr. Paul L. Reaser, pastor of St. James Lutheran Church:

"Eternal God, in Whom men and nations live and move and have their being;

"Great is Thy name, and ever to be worshipped above man or anything fashioned by men's hands."

"Look upon us as today we gather on this soil made sacred by patriot blood, shed in the cause of freedom and justice."

"Lord of love and mercy, forgive and cleanse the passions that push men into strife and warfare; forgive the hardened hearts that blind their vision of the path to peace and reconciliation."

"As we dedicate this Center for the use of Thy children, we are grateful that we may do so in the spirit of peace not of strife, the spirit of comradeship not of enmity, the spirit of unity not of disruption, the spirit of mutual love and cooperation."

"Grant, O God, that those who visit here in the years to come may experience a renewal of thanksgiving for true national heritage, a renewal of faith in their fellow countrymen, a renewal of confidence in the future, with a calm assurance that the future is as bright as the promises of God."

"Bless, we beseech Thee, all gathered here today, and all those of this great nation whom we represent, may our purposes have Thy divine approval, may our new resolves receive Thy blessing, and unto Thee, Lord of Life, we offer our praise, our prayers, our labors and our lives."

DELIVERS BENEDICTION

Rev. Robert A. MacAskill, pastor of the Presbyterian Church where President Lincoln attended worship services the afternoon of November 18, 1863, gave the following benediction:

"Almighty God, Sovereign ruler of men and nations, we thank Thee for this occasion and for this edifice dedicated to interpret to our time, and generations yet unborn, the sacrifice, suffering, and significance of the event that took place here in the unfolding of our national life. As we bring this to our remembrance, may we rededicate ourselves to 'the unfinished work' that 'government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth.'"

"In this quest, may our singular motive and purpose be to do Thy will, experience Thy love, and be sustained by Thy grace that our spirits may be nourished to produce the fruits of compassion, understanding, forgiveness, vision, faith, courage, peace, as sons of God in this nation and the world — to the end that Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done, on earth as it is in heaven, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen."

BUFFET TEA

Following the program there was a special presentation of the Philippoteaux painting with narration and musical accompaniment.

The Park Service was host to a buffet tea in the second floor lounge at which the following ladies served:

Mrs. Thelma Thompson, Mrs. Ruth Rogers, Mrs. Betty Dietz, Mrs. Joyce Sanders, Mrs. Marie Solenberger, Miss Theresa Nokes, Mrs. Minnie Robert, Mrs. Rhelda Tibberg and Mrs. Carol Myers.

POLAND SEES RED SPLIT AS UNBRIDGEABLE

By GENE KRAMER

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—Some Warsaw quarters for the first time are describing the Moscow-Peking split as unbridgeable.

Cautious experts on Communist affairs continue to warn that the Soviet Union and Communist China still have more in common than divides them. But these experts are softer in the wake of recent developments over Cuba and India.

One diplomat says flatly the recent purge of Stalinists in Bulgaria and the apparent downgrading of the Berlin question are frantic Soviet efforts to shore up Moscow's flanks for a full-dress showdown with Mao Tse-tung.

BRIDGE IS "GONE"

"The bridge has washed away," another diplomat commented. He was referring to the traditional role of Poland as a bridge, or mediator, in Moscow-Peking disputes.

Supporting this view is the possibility that veteran Chinese Communist Ambassador Wang Pingnan may quit the Warsaw post he has held for seven years.

Wang is now in Peking. A well informed diplomat said Monday he has been told if Wang returns to Warsaw, it will be to make his farewell calls.

RECALLS AMBASSADORS

This report touched off speculation on the future of the periodic ambassadorial meetings between Red China and the United States, held in Warsaw since 1958.

Wang, the dean of Chinese Communist diplomats in Eastern Europe as well as of the Warsaw diplomatic corps, went home in mid-October for what was then described as a temporary absence. Subsequently, Chinese Red ambassadors were called home from other Soviet bloc capitals.

No rupture of diplomatic relations between Communist China and the Soviet bloc is expected at this stage. But the replacement of Wang by a junior diplomat would be evidence that Peking no longer attaches value to Warsaw as a point for mediation within the Communist world—or with the United States.

OTHERS EVIDENCE

Wang's absence has already caused postponement of one meeting with U.S. Ambassador John M. Cabot—from Oct. 25 to Dec. 13.

Other evidence of the Soviet bloc-Chinese split was provided last weekend by the granting of substantial Polish industrial credits to India at a time when that country is in a shooting war with Communist China.

Those who witnessed the cordial signing of the eight-year, $32.3 million agreement between Poland and India wondered if Moscow hadn't nudged the Poles.

CHURCHWOMEN PLAN BAZAAR FOR 3 DAYS

Details concerning plans for the annual Thanksgiving bazaar in St. Aloysius parish hall, the last three days of this week, occupied the majority of the meeting of the St. Aloysius parish Council of Catholic Women Sunday evening in the school recreation room. Mrs. Z. W. Sanders, president, was in charge of the meeting.

Following reports from Mrs. Bernard Kuhns and Mrs. P. Kemp Hymiller, the monthly message of the outgoing national president, Mrs. Elizabeth Zepp, was read. The message invited members to order the proceedings of the 31st biennial convention just held in Detroit; to secure the newly struck NCCW medals and to order Christmas cards from national, as the proceeds are used in the work of assisting needy mothers and children throughout the world. Both the message of the national president and the diocesan president, Mrs. Eleanor Shields, called attention to the annual bishop's Thanksgiving clothing collection.

In St. Aloysius parish the clothing will not be collected until the week after Thanksgiving due to the bazaar. High heel shoes and fancy hats will be excluded from the clothing sent. Warm clothing, men's, women's and children's, bedding and sturdy shoes will be acceptable.

TO OMIT GIFTS

It was voted to omit the exchange of Christmas gifts at the annual covered dish Christmas party meeting on Thursday, December 20, instead of the regular meeting night but to donate the price of a gift toward the parish debt. The Christmas party committee consists of Mrs. R. Guy Lain chairman, Mrs. Conrad Hull, Mrs. John Rudisill, Mrs. Clair Moul, Mrs. Emory Weaver, Mrs. Harold Trone, Mrs. Roy Kevill, Mrs. Harold Lynn, the Misses Evelyn C. Alford, Nancy Oaster, Patricia Anthony, Jean Anthony and Betty Eckenrode. Those attending are asked to provide their own table service.

The president thanked all those members who assisted with the serving of a wedding reception recently and urged further cooperation in the serving of a banquet in the parish hall on December 19. A gift will be purchased and sent to the unit's adopted boy at Paradise Protective. Plans were also discussed for the annual Christmas party for the children of the parochial school. Details will be left in the hands of the committee chairman, Mrs. R. Guy Lain, and the school principal.

FINAL PAYMENT

It was voted to pay the concluding $150 of the $2,500 pledge payment to the Parish Plaque Renewal program. The pastor spoke briefly concerning the bazaar plans and future fund raising

HOFFA FACES PRISON TERM
DETROIT (AP)—The secretary-treasurer of the home local of the Teamsters Union president, James R. Hoffa, and an Ohio trucking executive today face a possible 32 years in prison and fines of $500,000 each.

William Wolff Sr., 52, president of the Youngstown (Ohio) Cartage Co., and Roland McMaster, 49, secretary-treasurer of Teamsters Union Local 299, were convicted on 32 counts of Taft-Hartley law violation by a U.S. District Court jury Monday.

The jury took just two and a half hours, after a month-long trial, to find that McMaster received 32 checks totaling $8,823 from Youngstown Cartage in violation of Taft-Hartley prohibitions against a company giving money to an official of a union which represents the firm's employees.

Both McMaster and Wolff were continued at liberty under $5,000 bond and sentence was deferred, pending outcome of a presentence investigation ordered by Judge Thomas Thornton.

SAY MUCH IS INVOLVED IN TAX CUT PLAN

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—A whole way of life is involved in the plan to cut taxes and reform the system. And that's likely to complicate action in the next Congress far beyond the simple popular slogan of lower rates and fewer loopholes.

An entire generation of business executives and countless other individuals are addicted to what is known as half-price thinking. Many products and programs seem to cost only half of what the ticket says because of the tax saving. Or, the other way around, many seeming advantages or rewards are worth only half what they promise because of the extra tax liability.

For one example, charitable organizations know that much of the gifts from corporations is tainted by the knowledge that if it wasn't given, taxes would take half of it anyway. Some charities are wondering today if their income will drop if tax rates do.

Or, the other side of the coin, many with executive skills know that a better paying job will net only a part of its face value. In the higher tax bracket a large part of the raise will melt away.

Critics of the present high tax rates argue that often it doesn't seem worth the effort to try to produce more and earn more. Or those at the top turn to other forms of compensation—stock options, company bought insurance, salary payments deferred till after retirement.

And the tax laws are now so complicated, especially at the corporate level, that perhaps 100,000 tax specialists work full time tackling others' problems.

STAFF AND FORUMS

Corporations also hire executives and countless clerks to handle the many official forms and seek out the most advantageous approach.

Avoidance of taxes is an art in itself, both for corporations and for individuals. Many business brains that might be concentrated on earning more income are occupied in trying to save on taxes. Business and individuals often find they're ahead this way in the long run.

Advocates of tax cuts and simplification say that the general economy suffers as a result. Economists at the First National City Bank of New York put it this way: "In high brackets, extra work is no longer worthwhile. Our punitive tax rates have led to the enactment of countless special reliefs that have complicated the tax laws and made them costly and difficult to administer and obey."

ROLE IN INFLATION

Morgan Guaranty economists add that half-price thinking has played a part in the wage-price spiral of inflation since World War II, since companies have felt that half of the wage increase would go for taxes otherwise and so haven't tried, until lately, to halt the spiral.

Half-price thinking also affects the manner of financing business expansion. Instead of offering new stocks many companies have relied on borrowing money. Interest payments are charged off before taxes, and thus seem half-price. Stockholders expect dividends, but these are paid out of a company's profits after tax net income, and thus seem full-price.

So, there's more to tax rates and systems than just the pain of filling out tax forms and getting up the payments.

HOBE SOUND, Fla. (AP) — Pennsylvania's governor-elect, William W. Scranton, says he won't seek the 1964 Republican presidential nomination.

Holding his final news conference at his vacation home Sunday, Scranton commented on possibility of getting one of the two places on the national ticket.

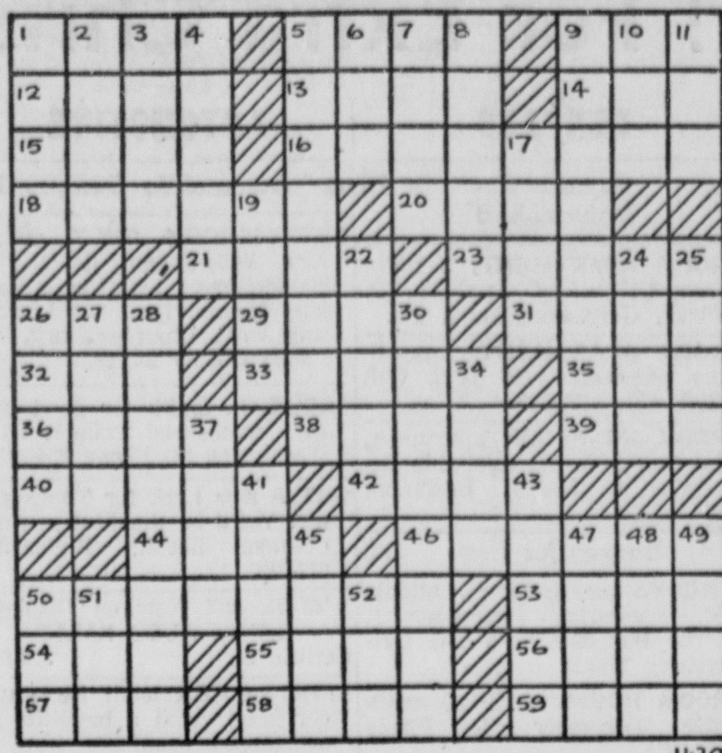

"I have no intention of asking the nomination for either position," Scranton said.

Asked whether he would accept a draft, Scranton laughed.

"I think I have already answered that question," he said.

Havana Claims Attack On Ships

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Havana radio claimed today a Cuban merchant ship sailing in international waters southwest of Bermuda was attacked Monday afternoon by a "North American plane."

The broadcast said the plane aimed 11 bombs at the Rio Domuli but all of them missed the target.

The vessel, said the radio, then "continued its voyage towards Cuba with the crew maintaining the same high morale of all the Cuban people."

There have been no reports on the alleged incident from other sources.

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER
DELICIOUS AND DE-FATTENING. A lovely asks: Please tell me why skim milk is recommended on reducing diets. Oh, I know it has fewer calories than whole milk, but does it have any special properties of value to dieters? Why not cut milk altogether while you diet?

The Answer: For proper nutrition, every adult should consume a pint of milk daily. The amount used on foods and in recipes may be included in the total intake.

The difference in the calorie count of whole and skim milk is appreciable, more than most people realize. An eight-ounce glass of skim milk contains 87 calories, whereas the same quantity of whole milk comes to 166 calories.

The extraction of fat—a component not needed by the weighty—accounts for the disparity. Other nutrients, much needed for energy and beauty, are essentially the same. Real solid in protein and vitamin content!

For the reducer, therefore, a skim milk offers well-being at bargain calorie rates. A pint-a-day also provides considerable bulk, a factor that helps in controlling the appetite. And appetite control, of course, is essential to weight loss.

One more tip about skim milk: You may not like it on first taste. All that can be said in that case is try again. Remember that people seldom relish their first oyster but, after several tries, become fans. Just so, you will find skim milk delicious. And de-fattening!

Do you really know the calorie counts of the foods you eat? Our new booklet, POCKET CALORIE COUNTER, tells the score at a glance. It also gives a diet plan—a way to eat and slim. For your copy, write Mary Sue Miller, Box 158, The Gettysburg Times, Dundee, Ill., enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 10 cents in coin.

ASK NEW TRIAL IN CANCER CASE

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Attorney James P. McArdle wants a new trial in the cigarette-lung cancer case of Otto Pritchard vs. Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

McArdle filed a motion to that effect before Judge John L. Miller in U. S. District Court Monday.

A Federal Court jury ruled recently that cigarette smoking was a cause of Pritchard's lung cancer but that Liggett & Myers was not liable for damages.

A spokesman for McArdle said the jury should have considered the "express warranty" of the firm's advertising. He said the ads claimed Chesterfield cigarettes would not adversely affect "nose, throat and accessory organs."

Pritchard, 64, of the city's Brookline section, contends he contracted lung cancer from smoking Chesterfields.

Corporations also hire executives and countless clerks to handle the many official forms and seek out the most advantageous approach.

Avoidance of taxes is an art in itself, both for corporations and for individuals. Many business brains that might be concentrated on earning more income are occupied in trying to save on taxes. Business and individuals often find they're ahead this way in the long run.

Advocates of tax cuts and simplification say that the general economy suffers as a result.

Economists at the First National City Bank of New York put it this way: "In high brackets, extra work is no longer worthwhile. Our punitive tax rates have led to the enactment of countless special relief that have complicated the tax laws and made them costly and difficult to administer and obey."

ROLE IN INFLATION

Morgan Guaranty economists add that half-price thinking has played a part in the wage-price spiral of inflation since World War II, since companies have felt that half of the wage increase would go for taxes otherwise and so haven't tried, until lately, to halt the spiral.

Half-price thinking also affects the manner of financing business expansion. Instead of offering new stocks many companies have relied on borrowing money. Interest payments are charged off before taxes, and thus seem half-price. Stockholders expect dividends, but these are paid out of a company's profits after tax net income, and thus seem full-price.

So, there's more to tax rates and systems than just the pain of filling out tax forms and getting up the payments.

HOBE SOUND, Fla. (AP)—Pennsylvania's governor-elect, William W. Scranton, says he won't seek the 1964 Republican presidential nomination.

Holding his final news conference at his vacation home Sunday, Scranton commented on possibility of getting one of the two places on the national ticket.

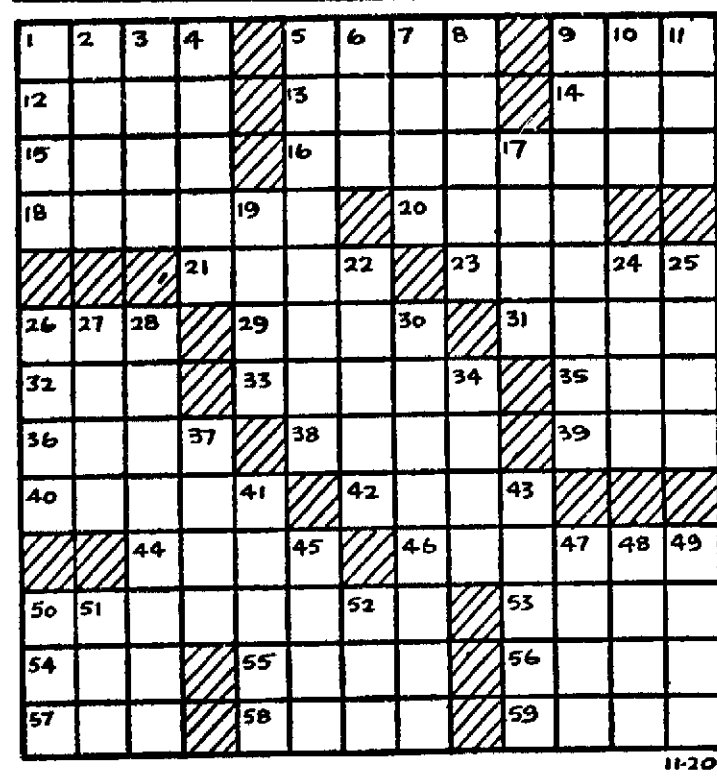

"I have no intention of asking the nomination for either position," Scranton said.

Asked whether he would accept a draft, Scranton laughed.

"I think I have already answered that question," he said.

In 1955, Denver Manager Ralph Houk sent pitcher Ralph Perry to Birmingham of the American Association "for more experience." Terry was only 19 at the time.

ASK NEW TRIAL IN CANCER CASE

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Attorney James P. McArdle wants a new trial in the cigarette-lung cancer case of Otto Pritchard vs. Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

McArdle filed a motion to that effect before Judge John L. Miller in U. S. District Court Monday.

A Federal Court jury ruled recently that cigarette smoking was a cause of Pritchard's lung cancer but that Liggett & Myers was not liable for damages.

A spokesman for McArdle said the jury should have considered the "express warranty" of the firm's advertising. He said the ads claimed Chesterfield cigarettes would not adversely affect "nose, throat and accessory organs."

Pritchard, 64, of the city's Brooklyn section, contends he contracted lung cancer from smoking Chesterfields.

Havana Claims Attack On Ships

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Havana radio claimed today a Cuban merchant ship sailing in international waters southwest of Bermuda was attacked Monday afternoon by a "North American plane."

The broadcast said the plane aimed 11 bombs at the Rio Domuji but all of them missed the target.

The vessel, said the radio, then "continued its voyage towards Cuba with the crew maintaining the same high morale of all the Cuban people."

There have been no reports on the alleged incident from other sources.

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER
DELICIOUS AND DE-FATTENING. A lovely asks: Please tell me why skim milk is recommended on reducing diets. Oh, I know it has fewer calories than whole milk, but does it have any special properties of value to dieters? Why not cut milk altogether while you diet?

The Answer: For proper nutrition, every adult should consume a pint of milk daily. The amount used on foods and in recipes may be included in the total intake.

The difference in the calorie count of whole and skim milk is appreciable, more than most people realize. An eight-ounce glass of skim milk contains 87 calories, whereas the same quantity of whole milk comes to 166 calories.

The extraction of fat—a component not needed by the weighty—accounts for the disparity. Other nutrients, much needed for energy and beauty, are essentially the same. Real solid in protein and vitamin content!

For the reducer, therefore, a skim milk offers well-being at bargain calorie rates. A pint-a-day also provides considerable bulk, a factor that helps in controlling the appetite. And appetite control, of course, is essential to weight loss.

One more tip about skim milk: You may not like it on first taste. All that can be said in that case is try again. Remember that people seldom relish their first oyster but, after several tries, become fans. Just so, you will find skim milk delicious. And de-fattening!

POCKET CALORIE COUNTER

Do you really know the calorie counts of the foods you eat? Our new booklet, POCKET CALORIE COUNTER, tells the score at a glance. It also gives a diet plan—a way to eat and slim. For your copy, write Mary Sue Miller, Box 158, The Gettysburg Times, Dun-Dee, Ill., enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 10 cents in coin.
